President Invokes Taft Act in Strike at Docks

Names Board of Inquiry, May Asks Court Order For Cooling-Off Period

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixty thousand dockworkers in New York early today invoked the Taft-Hartley Act, the president's law governing the nation's Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico shipping in what passengers on the two vessels described as a 100 unload their luggage.

Board of Inquiry

As a presidential board prepared to open a fact-finding inquiry preparatory to obtaining a Taft-Hartley Act "cooling off" order, Thomas W. Gleason, president of the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, said: "Not even a raft is floating down the river."

However, two transatlantic shipping circles estimated a loss of more than $20 million in the nation's economy for each day the docks are idle.

Threatened loss of jobs through automation of cargo handling was a major factor in the "no contract, no work" walkout by the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association which began a minute after midnight.

Ahead of Deadline

Some longshoremen jumped the gun in New York and began quitting work on the luxury liners as early as 5 p.m. Wednesday. Clerical employees were put to work handling passengers' luggage and three big ships — the British Queen Mary, the American Independence and the German Bremen — sailed during the night.

For the past few days shipping companies — especially in

Greek Cypriots Hail Military Aid Pact With Russia

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Several thousand cheering Greek Cypriots welcomed home today a ministerial delegation that negotiated a Soviet military aid agreement in Moscow.

"Down with NATO!" the crowd chanted. "Long live Soviet aid."

The Greek Cypriots said they needed stronger defenses to prevent intervention by Turkey in their nine-month-old feud with the island's Turkish Cypriot minority.

Both Turkey and Greece, which sympathize with the Greek Cypriot cause through disapproving of the mission to Moscow, are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianos told newsmen he is completely satisfied with the agreement, but refused to disclose the nature of the weapons expected or when they would be delivered.

Laotian Envoy to Leave N. Viet Nam

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government is withdrawing its ambassador from North Vietnam but says the move is not a diplomatic break with the Communists.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, the prime minister, told the National Assembly Wednesday that he would ask Ambassador Phan Peng to return from his post in Hanoi.

Phan Peng is a member of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction, which has been fighting in Laos alongside the Pathet Lao. North Vietnam has denied this.

5 Boston Firemen Killed, 13 Persons Taken to Hospital

Buried Under Bricks, Mortar When Wall Falls on Them

BOSTON (AP)—Five firemen were killed early today when they were buried under tons of brick and mortar from a wall that collapsed as they fought a blaze in a vacant building.

The fire in what once was a toy factory claimed the greatest number of Boston fire fighters since 1942 when six were killed.

Among today's dead was Pvt. John Clougherty, 31, son of acting Fire Chief John Clougherty, who was directing 200 fire fighters at the scene and saw the men killed.

13 Are Hospitalized
"My God," he exclaimed in disbelief. "I've lost my son!"

The others were Pvt. Frank Murphy, 44; Lt. John Geswell, 40; Lt. John McCorkle, 33, and Pvt. James B. Sheedy, 38.

A dozen other fire fighters and one civilian were taken to Boston City Hospital, some in serious condition.

Ailing Fire Chief William Terenzi, for whom the elder Clougherty was acting, appeared at the fire despite his illness. He said the behavior of the wall which collapsed was contrary to what normally would be expected.

A second wall collapsed 10 minutes after the fire fighters were killed, raining bricks on the men digging for their fallen colleagues.

Fire Spreads Rapidly
The second wall partly buried the fire truck and an ambulance. It caused no serious injuries.

Deputy Fire Chief John McCarthy said the fire was burning on the upper floor of the four-story brick building when

Justice Department And Governor Tell Of White Suspects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three white men were arrested in Mississippi in connection with recent bombings of Negro homes near McComb, the Justice Department and Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson said today.

The arrests were made by FBI agents, members of the State Highway Patrol and Pike County Sheriff R. R. Warren.

The three were charged under Mississippi law with illegal use of explosives, a crime that carries a possible death penalty.

They were identified by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and Johnson as Ernest Frederick Zeek, 25, and Jimmy Princeton Wilson, 38, both of McComb; and Paul Dewey Wilson, 25, who moved from McComb to Jayess, Miss., Wednesday.

Saw Guns Moved
Officials said the break in the investigation came Wednesday when federal and state agents saw Wilson moving guns and ammunition.

Paul Wilson is charged in two bombings. The first was at the home of the Rev. James Baker on Sept. 12-13 to discuss his sermon. The FBI said Wilson allegedly hurled three sticks of dynamite at the Baker house.

All three men are charged in the second bombing, one that field of hereditary potentialities took place late in evening of concerning the over-all intelligence and the capacity for cultural development, nor in that of physical traits, is there any justification for the concept of "inferior" and "superior" races.

The FBI said the dynamite thrown at the Baker house exploded about 20 feet away. Mrs. Baker and an aunt were in the house.

Although there were people in the house at the time of the explosion, there were no injuries.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—

A neurosurgeon at the University of Utah College of Medicine is working on a new "re-wiring" technique that may offer hope to the paraplegic.

Dr. Theodore S. Roberts is cautious when he talks about the results.

Considerably more work must be done to develop and prove the technique, he said in an interview. "But I think we have police officials and protectors, to keep working away at it."

Hurricane Hilda Youth Killed, Two Gaining Power Hurt in Car Crash

Coastal Residents Along Gulf Moving To Higher Ground

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Hilda became a severe hurricane — packing winds of 125 miles an hour — as she plowed through the Gulf of Mexico today.

All along low-lying coastal areas, residents went inland to the safety of higher ground.

The Weather Bureau, in its 10 a.m. EST. advisory, upgraded Hilda to "severe status."

There was still no indication when or where Hilda would push her howling winds inland, but Louisiana or possibly Texas appeared the prime targets.

The Weather Bureau continued to say that Hilda would veer from her present northwesterly course toward the north.

At 10 a.m., Hilda's eye—the deadly calm center of low pressure from which furious winds are spawned — was 350 miles south of New Orleans, or about 300 miles from the nearest land mass.

The Weather Bureau said portions of low-lying coastal roads in Louisiana would probably be flooded tonight.

If Hilda doesn't veer to the north—as predicted—her present course would take her to the densely populated Texas coast.

A turn to the north would send the hurricane toward the marshy Louisiana coast.

The threat of Hilda caused the Atomic Energy Commission to postpone for the fifth time its scheduled underground nuclear detonation in the Tatum salt domes near Hattiesburg, Miss.

The New Orleans Coast Guard said it had radio reports from the motorship Cornelia B. III that it was being buffeted by winds and high waves north of Hilda's eye.

Ice Age Park Bill Senate Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill setting up an Ice Age National Scientific Reserve for Wisconsin. The measure, passed by the House last week, now goes to President Johnson.

The bill creates a 32,500-acre park in Wisconsin to preserve the outstanding examples of the age of glaciers and provide recreational opportunities.

Sen. Gailord Nelson, D-Wis., persuaded the Senate to take the bill out of order today despite a legislative log jam caused by the rush of Congress to adjourn. The bill was passed by voice vote.

It authorizes $900,000 in federal funds to pay half the cost of land acquisition and draft a plan for the park. The reserve will include about 27,000 acres in the Kettle Moraine State Forest and other areas in the Devils Lake region of Sauk County and the Chippewa Wilderness in Chippewa County.

Nixon, who is backing Goldwater, as well as Keating, ignored the reaction to the mention of Keating's name except for a moment when he told the crowd: "Don't boo me. I've been booed by experts."

There were a lot of signs boosting Goldwater and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of upstate New York. There were only a few signs boosting Keating, who is running against former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Nixon's appearance was the start of a month-long, 36-state tour campaigning for Goldwater and other Republican candidates. He plans more than 150 speeches.

Nixon told the rally that an election victory for Kennedy—who has rented a Long Island home after living in Virginia and voting in his native Massachusetts for years—would open the doors of the Senate to anyone who "just wants a job."

Stanley Ostrowski, 18, Menasha, Dies in Accident Near Tigerton

TIGERTON — Stanley P. Ostrowski, 18, 735 DePere St., Menasha, was killed shortly before 2 a.m. today when the car he was riding in on U.S. 45 failed to negotiate a curve and crashed about 2½ miles north of here.

The death raised the state traffic toll for 1964 to 800. The car went off the right side of the road, through rocks in the ditch, struck a utility pole and rolled over several times.

Two other occupants of the car, Shirden Waitrowski, 31, 1921 Henry St., Neenah, and Roger Krueger, 18, 317 Grandview Ave., Menasha, are in critical condition at Tigerton Hospital.

Wiatrowski has internal injuries and lacerations and head injuries. Neither man has regained consciousness.

Shawano County police have held a hearing on the accident. Friends of the family are making arrangements for the funeral.

Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Monday at Florian Catholic Church, Hailey, Schmidt Funeral Home, Wittenberg, is handling arrangements. Friends may call after noon Sunday.

Barry Takes Campaign Into Indiana Cities

Charges Johnson Mishandled Asian Conflict Situation

WITH GOLDWATER (AP) —

Sen Barry Goldwater carried his presidential campaign into Indiana today with the assertion that because of President Johnson's "mishandling," the American strategic position in Asia "has virtually collapsed."

Saying that the Chinese Communists are preparing to set off a nuclear bomb that might well be heard around the world, the GOP presidential candidate accused Johnson of paying more attention to politics than to world peace. He did not elaborate.

Goldwater aimed his attack on Johnson in a speech prepared for an Indianapolis luncheon rally, preceded by a whistle-stop campaign in Jeffersonville, Seymour and Columbus, Ind.

8 Cities
The Arizona senator spoke in eight Ohio cities Wednesday, and the large applauding crowds left him pleased with his prospects for carrying that politically vital state.

Goldwater said in an interview that Rep Robert A. Taft Jr., candidate for the Senate from Ohio, and Rep Oliver Bolton, candidate for Ohio congressman-at-large, "are running strong."

He added: "If they are running strong, I am running strong."

He said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and former President Herbert Hoover had advised him to fire at Johnson the "soft-on-communism" charge he had made against the President in Ohio and was prepared to repeat in Indiana today.

Student Hecklers
In his last Ohio appearance, in the fieldhouse of the University of Toledo Wednesday night, Goldwater was heckled by an organized group of students. He performed by the same doctor, a few details about a new radar-guided missile carried inside the twin-tailed monster's 90-foot-long fuselage.

return they are given doubletalk and evasion."

"We know our boys have been sent out to fight and to die with obsolete equipment," he said, "and we know my opponent gave the Communist enemy an alert of 30 minutes in advance of a crucial counterattack."

"Rush Off"
"Why does the leader of this administration rush into crowds and rush off on furious political trips at taxpayers' expense — without ever rushing to confront the American people in serious discussion and honest disclosure?"

"I charge that he shrinks from discussion, that he shrinks from the view of the public — except when in the middle of a mob scene — for the same reason he has shirked leadership."

"He has no principles upon which to base his foreign policy. His policy is one of sidestepping — of drift, deceit and defeat."

"He talks of peace, but he has no stomach to face up to the main threat of peace — communism."

Buy Votes
Goldwater said the job of the president is to buy needed military strength, but Johnson "seeks only to buy votes."

"We want to make sure that bullets never fly," Goldwater said. "He wants to make sure that ballots are stacked high."

Walker asked $1 million actual damages and $1 million exemplary damages, and demanded a jury trial.

Air Force Unveils New Interceptor

Plane Reportedly Capable of 2,000 Miles Per Hour

EDWARDS AIR FORCE

BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force unveiled its new YF12A interceptor Wednesday, with much fanfare but few facts.

The huge black bomber-killer—twice the size of the F104 fighter sitting beside it on the runway—is reportedly capable of 2,200 miles an hour and 100,000 feet altitude.

At a briefing and flight demonstration for newsmen, however, the Air Force would not go beyond the performance figures given by President Johnson when he announced the new plane last February, over 2,000 m.p.h. and over 70,000 feet.

Hint of Ability
Only hint of the new plane's performance was disclosure that it was capable of more than 2,000 m.p.h. for long periods of time, indicating it can reach higher speeds with short bursts of power from its two 40,000-pound thrust engines.

A spokesman said Arizona-based YF12A's could intercept north before they could cross the border.

The Air Force also disclosed a few details about a new radar-guided missile carried inside the twin-tailed monster's 90-foot-long fuselage.

the vast port of New York — to heavily populated areas. The chairman of the three-man board, Herbert Schmetz, 34, a Washington labor lawyer and arbitrator, called a meeting of the board for today.

Schmetz telegraphed requests for statements on their positions by the union and the New York Shipping Association, which represents more than 150 shipping and stevedoring companies.

May Act Quickly
After the board reports to the President, it will be up to him to make the final decision on whether to ask the Department of Justice to seek an injunction — presumably in U.S. District Court in Manhattan.

Schmetz said an injunction could be sought before Monday, if the President decided to move and arbitrator, and James J. Healy, a Harvard professor of industrial relations. Kheel and Healy were drawn from the presidential mediation panel, headed by Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, which had been working with negotiators to break the three-month dock contract deadlock.

The longshoremen union's president, Thomas (Teddy) Gleason, said the union would obey an injunction and observe an 80-day cooling-off period. The union has complied quickly with injunctions obtained by former Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy to stop dock strikes.

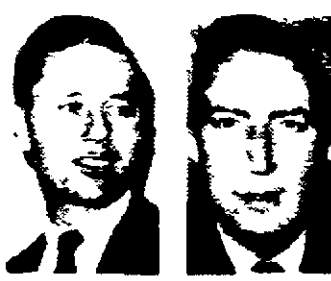

The men would be free to strike again if no settlement was reached by the end of the 80 days.

Contracts reached here between the dock union and the New York Shipping Association traditionally set the pattern for contracts in all Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Encephalitis Cases Feared in New Jersey
TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — State health officials were conducting laboratory tests today to determine whether about 25 persons in South Jersey have encephalitis.

Two deaths in Camden have been blamed on encephalitis. A State Health Department spokesman said Wednesday about 25 residents of Camden and Burlington counties are suffering from a disease of the central nervous system resembling encephalitis. The spokesman said, however, health officials do not believe the cases will be identified as eastern encephalitis.

An outbreak of eastern encephalitis in New Jersey in 1959 caused 21 deaths. The disease is transmitted by mosquitoes.

Johnson Off Campaigning In Baltimore

However, Trip Is Not Strictly Politics, He Says

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The great political campaign of 1964 has a month and two days to go now and President Johnson is going to be on the go most of the time, starting with a swift trip to Baltimore today.

The visit to Maryland's big city is related to politics, but is not strictly a campaign trip. The President will be back later on to address a Democratic rally on Oct. 22.

He accepted an invitation for today's appearance to talk in the lecture series on the 1964 election at the Johns Hopkins University — at the behest of Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the former president and a Republican.

Outright Politicking
Johnson was getting back to outright politicking later in the day at a White House meeting with representatives of an organizing committee for Women's Independent Citizens for Johnson.

states since he received the Democratic presidential nomination, so he is well on the way to hitting his goal of 30 or more states between now and voting day Nov. 3.

Starts Tuesday
Starting next Tuesday, the heavy campaigning picks up again. In the next four days, Johnson will be in on the start and the end of Lady Bird Johnson's whistle-stop expedition into the South by special train. He will turn up along the way at least one point, too.

Tuesday morning the President sends the First Lady on her way to Alexandria, Va., then flies to Raleigh, N.C., that night to meet her there and make a speech. Friday her tour reaches the end of the line at New Orleans and the President will be there, too.

In between he is going to Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky.

Flying Trip
Then there's a flying trip to San Francisco for a day-early Columbus Day parade on Oct. 11 — an event which Democratic nominees attend on the other side of the continent in New York. But Johnson will show up in New York's Madison Square Garden Oct. 15 for a rally staged by the Liberal party of the state, which has made him its candidate, too.

From there on, the presidential schedule hasn't been announced. But several Florida with representatives of an organizing committee for Women's Independent Citizens for Johnson.

Lawrence Student Asked To White House

President Johnson
Invites Campus
Leaders for Day

Tony Valukas, president of the Lawrence University student body from Palatine, Ill., will represent that institution at the White House, Washington, D.C. this weekend.

President Lyndon Johnson wrote to Lawrence President Curtus W. Tarr, asking him to nominate a student leader to attend a social event there.

President Johnson's letter read in part: "Naturally I have a great interest in the young leaders who are emerging in our colleges and would like to get to know them and their thinking as much as I can. With this in mind, I am inviting to the White House a group of student leaders from representative colleges and universities throughout the country."

Student Receptions

"The occasion will be Saturday. It will begin at 5 p.m. and will consist of a reception of the students by Mrs. Johnson and myself, some remarks by me, talks by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, and Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, and a buffet dinner and entertainment at which my daughter Lynda will be hostess."

"The young person I would like to invite is the college stu-

Smoking Trend Still Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says the long-range trend of cigarette smoking remains uncertain.

Smoking, which dropped earlier this year after issuance of the surgeon general's report which condemned smoking as a health hazard, has increased recently. The domestic output of cigarettes this year, however, is expected to be 532 billion — 3 per cent below last year.

The decline, which reached as much as 8 per cent in February-April, was 2 per cent in May-July.

"If cigarette use continues fairly near the level indicated for mid-1964," the department said Wednesday, "output and consumption might be up a little in 1965."

"The immediate and longer range trend of cigarette consumption, however, will remain somewhat uncertain for some time."

It also reported a continuing increase in cigars and cigarillos with consumption this year expected to be 30 per cent larger than last season.

dent in each institution who, while maintaining a good academic record, has also shown special qualities of character, leadership, and interest in college and public affairs."

President Tarr announced the selection of Valukas to represent the institution during the matriculation day convocation Tuesday.

Tarr remarked: "To the shrewd observer it might be possible to uncover some political significance to this invitation — but Tony is a man of vision and understanding, and he says that he can take all of this in his stride and come back just as much in favor of President Johnson as when he left."

2 Families Try To Quit Russia For America

BY GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — Two families, unhappy with life in the Soviet Union, are making a desperate bid for permission to move to the United States.

They sold all their belongings and moved from Riga, Latvia, to Moscow to await action on their applications for exit permits. A Soviet official has given them a glimmer of hope but advised that they return to Riga to wait for a reply to their appeal.

Natalia Berezine, 29, spokesman for the group of four adults and five children, said they arrived here Sept. 20 determined to leave the country. The U.S. Embassy has promised them visas to the United States if they can obtain exit permits, she said.

Mrs. Berezine said she has half-brothers and other relatives in the United States. She emigrated to the Soviet Union from Red China 10 years ago on a dare from classmates at a Catholic school in Shanghai, she said.

With her are her husband, Anatol, 30, their two children; Mrs. Klavdia Dubovtzeva and her divorced daughter and her three children. The adults all were born in China of Western and Oriental parentage.

OF ELECTRIC HEATING

If you've ever wondered what electric heating is like, this is your opportunity to visit a home that has it. Electric heat is truly the modern way to heat a home. The temperature in each room is always just right. That's because each room has its own thermostat for individual room comfort control. Electric heat is the cleanest, most quiet and carefree way to heat a home. And W.M.P.Co.'s new electric home heating rate makes electric heating more economical than ever before!

BASEBOARD HEATERS

WALL PANELS

Whenever you see the above Gold Medallion on a home, it tells you that the home has met these four basic requirements for total electric living:

- It has flameless electric home heating for clean, even heat, free of annoying cold drafts and sudden hot blasts.
- It has major electric appliances that take over routine housework and give the housewife more time to spend with her family. This includes a new "Quick Recovery" electric water heater.
- It has Full Housepower Wiring, with sufficient circuits, switches and outlets—plus provision for future needs.
- It has Light for Living planned not only to provide proper illumination but also to add beauty and dramatic accents to the home decor.

If you're planning a new home, look into the advantages of electric heating. Please call, write or stop in and see us.

Oswald, Wild Russian Seen To be Similar

Both Lied, Killed, Sought Recognition As Kind of Hero

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sergi Nechayev was the wildest of the wild Russian revolutionists of the 19th century. He was ruthless and he had a simple philosophy: assassination. He was a liar. He used fictitious names. He was a killer. And he so badly wanted recognition as a hero, leader and martyr, all at the same time, that he cooked up fantasies about himself. Lee Harvey Oswald was the same and did the same. Nechayev, like Oswald, had a bleak childhood. Both had half-baked intellects. This is an example of how far-out Nechayev was: when he escaped the czarist police and went to Switzerland, he represented himself as an agent of an organization which didn't exist.

Nechayev Disciple
Then, returning to Russia under an assumed name, he represented himself as a disciple of Sergi Nechayev who, he said, had died in a czarist prison, tortured to death for the revolution.

Lenin seems to have learned some lessons from Nechayev, if only in ruthlessness. Perhaps Oswald did, too, if he ever read Nechayev's life although at this moment it can't be said he ever heard of the nutty Russian. The Warren Commission, which investigated Oswald's assassination of President John F. Kennedy, in the first of its many-volume report on the tragedy paid scant attention to the books Oswald read, books which may have influenced him.

More Details
It will give more details in some of the subsequent volumes, some or all of which may be released this month. It could never hope to list all the books he ever read, if only because he didn't keep records and was secretive.

And just because he was secretive, communicating little to anyone, it's doubtful the commission could ever hope to pinpoint many, if any, influences on Oswald from his reading. He probably didn't know himself.

There is no life of Nechayev listed among the books Oswald borrowed from the New Orleans library, when he lived in that city. There is no public record available on what books he read in Dallas.

Only One
He was quoted as saying he read about communism from the time he was 15 years old although when asked at 20 to name some of his Communist reading he could mention only one: "Das Kapital" by Karl Marx.

He could easily have read the Nechayev story, though, in a couple of paperback books: one, "To the Finland Station," by Edmund Wilson, and the other, "Apostles of Revolution," by Max Nomad.

He must have had assassination on his mind for some time before he shot the President, for on April 10, 1963 he tried to kill former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker with a rifle and a few days later went to New Orleans.

Borrowed Books
He stayed there until September, borrowing from the library while he was there a book on the assassination of Sen. Huey Long in 1935. Two months later he shot the President.

He also borrowed "Portrait of a President" by W. R. Manchester, which begins with Carl Sandberg's brooding thoughts on Lincoln's assassination, plus a book on the Chinese communist leader, Mao-Tse tung.

Since the Warren Commission ruled out the idea of conspiracy in the Kennedy assassination — and Oswald was a loner from childhood — it is a reasonable guess that his ideas must have stemmed far more from books than conversation.

Tiny Fragments
But this speculation on what Oswald read, and what may have influenced him, is testimony to one thing, that try as it would, and it tried for 10 months to put the pieces together, the Warren Commission, at least in its first volume, was able to collect only tiny fragments of what Oswald said and thought.

This is why the seven-man commission could do no better than guess at Oswald's reason for killing the President. Perhaps in the years ahead more pieces will be added by people who at one time or another talked to him.

But as this happens, and time passes, myths will grow around the grubby little man who wanted to make a big noise in the world but gave up early and finally decided the only way he could do it was with a gun.

Ground Breaking for a $6 million hardboard manufacturing plant being built at Superior on a 17-acre tract facing St. Louis Bay, off Lake Superior, took place Wednesday. A model of the plant is explained to Ralph Falstad, vice president and director, at left, by Lennart N. Egerstrand, president and general manager. Scheduled for completion in mid-1965, the plant will employ 125 persons and produce annually the equivalent of 120 million square feet of fiberboard one-eighth of an inch thick, Engerstrand said.

College Building Boom Speeds Up

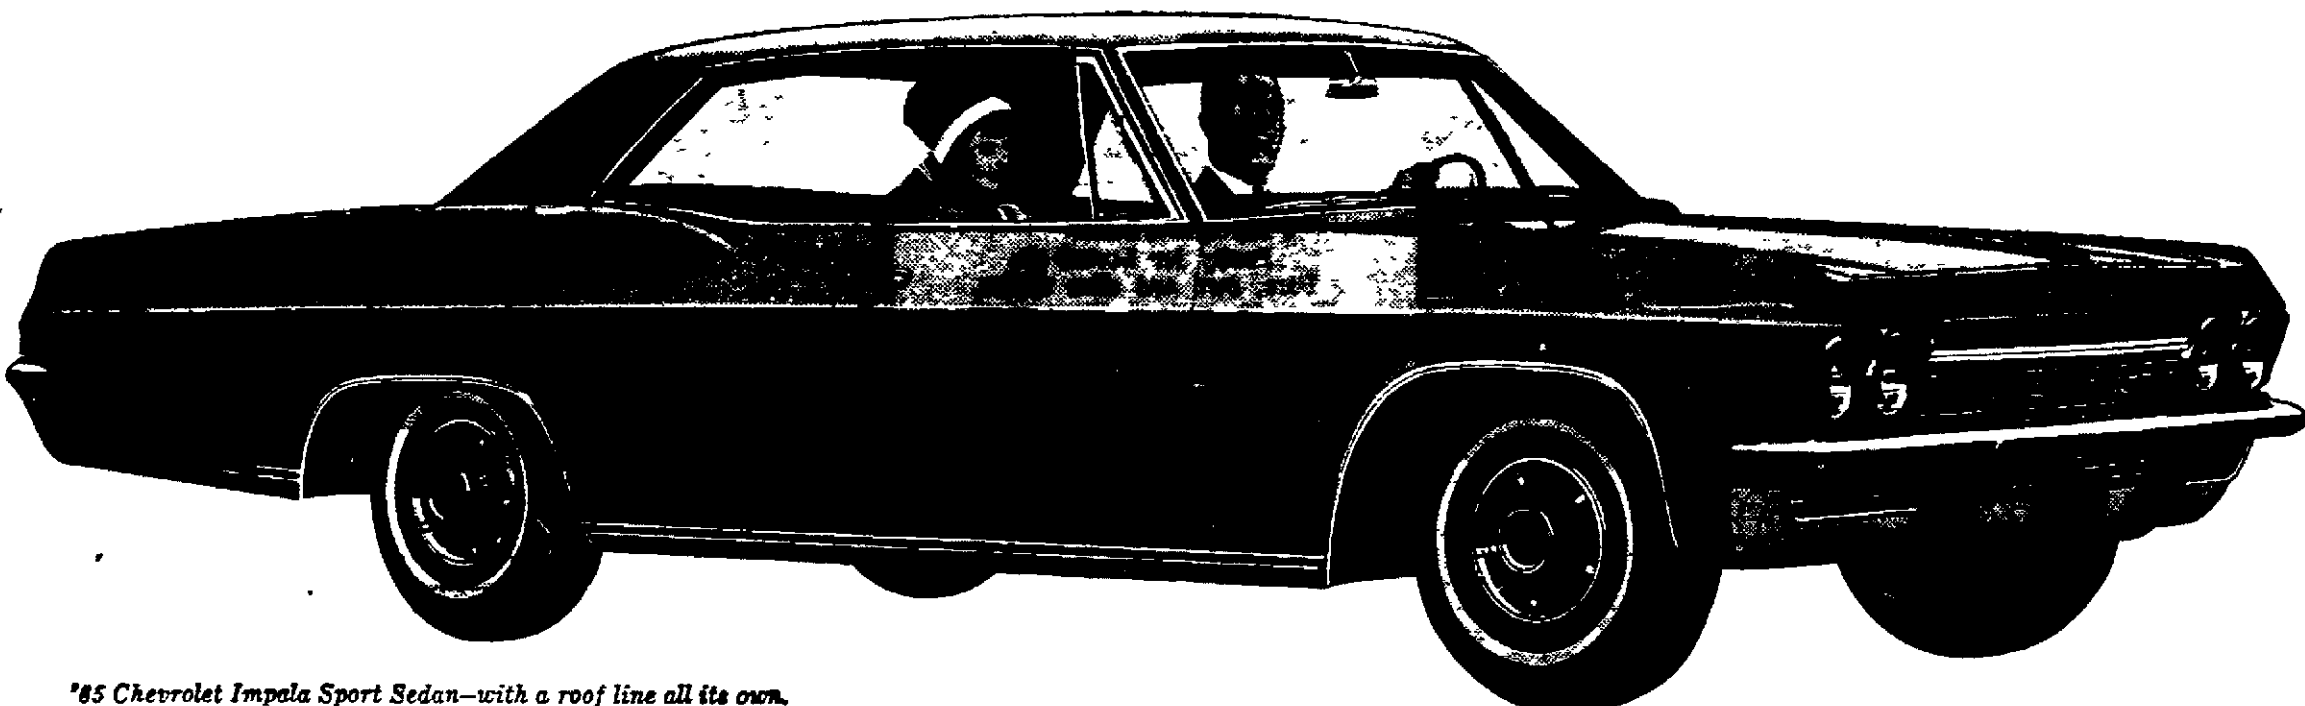

Analyst Sees Continuation of Increase in School Construction

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — A construction boom is under way for new college and university buildings. The total spending for construction for higher education is expected to double in the years just ahead. Needs and aims are changing. Now the emphasis is on new dormitories. Ahead, educators say, will be a drive to build more science and research facilities. And despite the growing volume of postgraduate students, the stress will still be on taking care of an even larger increase in the number of undergraduates. Some 200 of the nation's leading colleges and universities say their building programs envision more than $4 billion in outlays in the next 10 years. This is about twice what they spent in the last 10. All Types
While more will be spent for science and research facilities, construction will continue for all types of campus building — classrooms, administration, dormitories. The 200 replying to queries by Walter Kidde Constructors, Inc., New York, represent 45 states and Puerto Rico. Of these 150 they have, or will, apply for federal aid under the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963. And 105 of the 200 plan to apply to other government sources for funds. Some look for aid from other sources. Research and development facilities planned by 52 of the colleges and universities will be able to handle outside industrial contracts to help pay for themselves — and perhaps even attract private endowment funds. On average, the schools spent $2.9 million during the last 10 years on these science and research buildings. In the next 10 they plan to spend an average of $6.1 million. While 44 per cent of the higher education institutions are planning to build accommodations for growing graduate schools, more than 75 per cent will be building more facilities for undergraduates. The rush for higher education is expected to gather speed in the coming decade. Part of this is due to the growing up of the big postwar baby crop. But part is due to increasing stress on the essential role of education in tackling the increased technology of industry, which is building up demand for higher skills. At the same time the fields of employment open to the high school graduates are expanding only moderately at best, and scarcely as fast as the population growth. At the grade school dropout level, job hunting is becoming an ever harder task. In the coming collegiate building boom, new architectural trends are developing, too. As in many other fields, college and universities are feeling a space squeeze. Builders and architects report mounting interest in high-rise buildings to take care of more students on restricted ground space, and for multipurpose buildings, especially those offering flexibility as educational needs change.

Year's most talked-about new cars

'65 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—with a roof line all its own.

'65 Chevrolet Impala

It's '65's biggest, most beautiful change—as new outside as it is inside and underneath. There's striking new styling. New length, width and lowness. A roomier new Body by Fisher housing an interior that's a knockout—with richer looking fabrics and new curved side windows. Also a showpiece of an instrument panel which (in the Impala series) carries the look of fine grained walnut. And with the new elegance there's a range of six engines available—from a quieter 6 to a 400-hp V8. And a more serene Jet-smooth ride that's rooted in a new Full Coil suspension system and Wide-Stance design. Fact is, if you overlook just one thing you can easily convince yourself you're onto a big expensive car here. And that thing is its Chevrolet price.

New Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe—with new higher powered range of engines.

'65 Corvair Corsa

There's never been anything like it from either side of the Atlantic. A new kind of Corvair for '65—low slung and racy with an authentic international flair. From the new top-of-the-line Corsa series to the Monzas and lowest priced 500's, there's new thin-line hardtop styling for all closed models. More length and width, more entrance and shoulder room in all models. Dramatically new interiors highlighted by a sporty instrument panel that features a tachometer and other special instrumentation in the Corsa version. A flatter ride with a more solid feel stemming from a new independent suspension and wider wheel stance. And a higher powered range of engines—with up to 180 hp available in the Corsas. Enjoy the Bountiful Apple Harvest

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

One official forecast that won't go wrong is from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The reliable word is that the biggest apple crop in 27 years is heading for the harvest. This means apples are a top fresh fruit buy for Wisconsin home-makers.

Markets in the Fox Cities area bear this out with apples of excellent quality for both eating out of hand and cooking in abundant supply. The varieties available now are the popular Jonathan . . . juicy and just the right size for lunch boxes . . . the meaty Delicious. Wealthy, Dudley, Cortland and rosy McIntosh.

The apple really is the king of fruits. It always has been a famous pie maker . . . deep-dish or two-crust variety. The apple is great for munching between meals and may be cooked in any number of superb desserts.

The apple does wonders to a salad . . . it's loaded with vitamin C . . . helps promote dental health and makes one of the best foods around for the gal on a slimming diet.

Many cooks favor the Delicious . . . red or yellow . . . for salads and eating raw, but the Cortland also is fine for these purposes. This apple, which will become more plentiful just a little later in the season, is a cross between the McIntosh and an old-timer called the Ben Davis. It's particularly valuable for salads because it has the white flesh of the McIntosh and doesn't discolor easily after being cut.

Personal choice may rule out the McIntosh and Cortland for baking. These apples are crisp for eating but have a softer texture than some of the other varieties when it comes to baking. Another later apple, the Rome Beauty, is superb for baking and makes excellent pies. But the tart-sweet Jonathan probably is most preferred for all-around use.

Nutrition research shows that apples vary with a marked difference in vitamin C content. Winesaps rate highest, the Jonathan and Delicious varieties rank next in vitamin C value.

Another lesson to remember is that the highest concentration of vitamin C in any apple is found in the peel. The skin contains three to five times more vitamin C than the flesh, say the experts. Thus, it's better not to peel apples except when culinary purposes demand it. Besides, when using apples in a salad, the rosy or tawny skin tones of an apple brighten the dish to make it prettier and more dramatic.

Pie, cake, salad and a pudding make up today's collection of recipes. They were chosen to show how versatile apples can be. One added use, not illustrated, is the role apples can play for the busy homemaker who needs a dessert in a hurry.

This quickie makes superb company fare, yet takes little time to prepare. Cut apple slices either wafer thin or chunky, depending on personal choice. Spread each slice with a favorite cheese or several kinds of cheese. Arrange the slices fan-fashion on a large plate and serve as a cookie. It's a sure-fire success. So are these other recipes.

DEEP-DISH APPLE PIE

6 large tart apples
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Grated peel, 1 lemon
Grated peel, 1 orange
3 tablespoons butter
Pastry for 1-crust pie
Pare, core and slice apples. Place in greased 1 1/2 - quart baking dish or deep 10-inch pie pan.

Combine white and brown sugars, nutmeg and grated peels. (If new granulated brown sugar used, increase measurement of brown sugar to three-fourth cup since it does not have to be firmly packed.)

Sprinkle sugar-peel mixture over apples in dish. Dot with butter.

Roll pastry to fit top of dish. Place over apples and cut slashes in pastry to allow escape of steam. Bake in preheated 425-degree oven between 40 and 45 minutes or until apples are tender.

If desired, serve warm with whipped cream dashed with nutmeg. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

APPLE-SALMON SALAD

2 pkgs. celery salad gelatin
4 cups hot water
1 can red salmon, boned and flaked (1-pound can)
1 1/2 cups diced, unpeeled red apples
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
1 tablespoon capers
Salad greens
Cucumber slices

Dissolve gelatin in water (plain, unflavored gelatin may be used with dash of celery salt, if prepared salad gelatin unavailable). Pour about a third of this mixture into a six-cup mold; chill until set.

Chill remaining gelatin until consistency of unbeaten egg white; fold in remaining ingredients. Spoon this on top of firm, clear gelatin. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on salad greens. Garnish with fluted cucumber slices. Accompany with any preferred salad dressing. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

APPLE-WALNUT CAKE

4 cups coarsely chopped apples
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup vegetable oil
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts
Lemon-Butter Frosting
whole walnut meats

Combine apples and sugar; let stand. Beat eggs slightly; beat in oil and vanilla.

Mix and sift together flour, baking soda, cinnamon and salt; stir in alternately with apple-sugar mixture. Stir in walnuts.

Pour into greased and floured oblong pan. Bake at 350 degrees for about one hour, or until center of cake tests done. Let cake stand in pan for awhile after it comes from oven, then turn out onto rack to complete cooling.

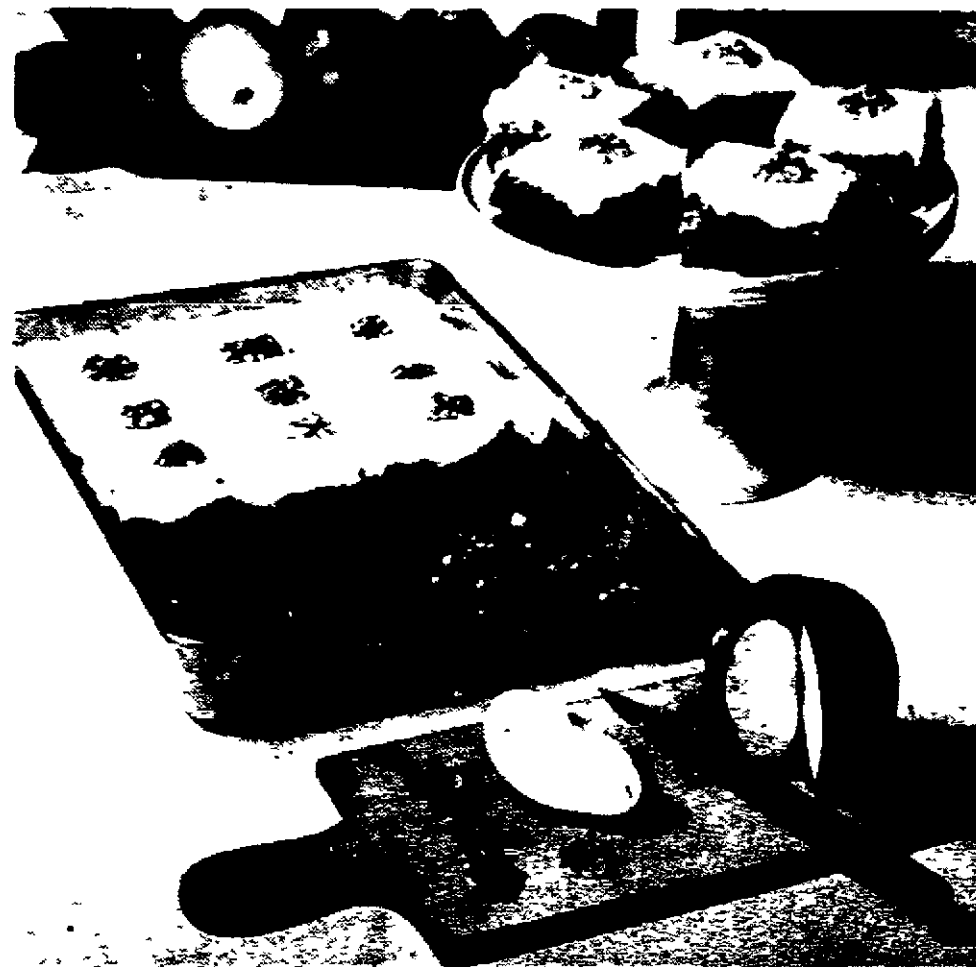

Frost with Lemon Butter Frosting. Decorate with whole nutmeat meats. Cut into squares to serve. Recipe should make from 12 to 15 squares, depending on size of servings.

LEMON BUTTER FROSTING
4 tablespoons butter
3 cups confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 to 2 tablespoons cold water
Few grains salt
Cream butter; add sugar

Wedding Promises Exchanged

ROYALTON — Wedding promises were exchanged at 2:30 p.m. Saturday by Miss Beverly Mae Zirbel and Robert Elmer Glocke. The Rev. Peter Buentleen, Charlotte, Sandra and Irene Zirbel. Miss Victoria Zirbel acted as junior bridal aide. Flower girl was Miss Sherry Glocke.

David Glocke was his brother's best man. Darrel Drath, James Glocke, Jerold Dexter and Clarendon, LaWayne and Argil Zirbel were groomsmen. Kenneth Glocke and Gerhardt Zirbel ushered. James Bork attended as ring bearer.

The couple was honored at a reception in the church parlor. After an eastern honeymoon, the couple will be at home at route 3, New London. Mrs. Glocke is employed at Zwicker Knitting Mills, Waupaca. Her husband is with Murphy Construction Co., New London.

Mrs. Robert Glocke

ing officiated at the double ring rite at Zion Lutheran Church, Manawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Zirbel are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Glocke, route 2, Manawa.

Miss Karen Zirbel served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Janet, Dar-order to begin the diamonds from his own hand. It was a case of taking pains to make the wrong play. When South led a diamond, West signalled with the ten. Declarer played the king from dummy, and East carefully played the nine. This proper play doomed South.

Declarer returned to his hand with the queen of spades and led his other diamond, still hoping to win all but one of dummy's long suit. He wound up with only one diamond trick. East won the second diamond and returned a heart. Now South could not lead diamonds from his own hand. He could get to dummy with the ace of spades to set up the diamonds but could never get back to cash them. After a long struggle, South managed to get seven tricks. Down two.

Can Lose Two Diamonds South could well afford to lose two diamond tricks and should have done so. There was no harm in leading the first diamond from the South hand provided that declarer played a low diamond from dummy instead of the king. It would be just as good and somewhat simpler if declarer led a low diamond from dummy at the second trick instead of bothering to get to his own hand.

East would win the first diamond trick and lead a heart to South's ace. Declarer could now lead a diamond to dummy's king, losing to the ace. By this time the rest of dummy's diamonds would be good, and the ace of spades would serve as an entry to them.

The proper play yields a score of 600 points for South. The bargain hunt gives the opponents 200 points.

Sacre Coeur Club Announces Program

Parents of Bedwetter May Require Clinical Counsel

Dear Dr. Jones: Our second oldest boy has ruined four mattresses by wetting his bed. My husband says from now on he's going to spank him and rub his nose in the wet, because treating him nicely and giving him a nickel every night he stays dry doesn't help. Neither does leaving a light on all night in the bathroom. Our son is 12 years old, very small for his age, and has trouble in school, too. I would like to find a different way to help him if there is any. MRS. N. D.

Your husband's plan is inhuman and bound to cause more problems than it can possibly solve. Since he's so worried about the mattresses, how about putting a waterproof cover on the new one? Take your son for a physical check-up. Then take him, yourself, and your husband to the clinic whose name I'm sending you. Most bedwetting problems can be solved at home by the parents alone, but not when the parents themselves need intensive treatment. Dear Dr. Jones: Please settle an argument between me is a better teacher than painful experience.

Ask your physician to check her vision and walking, to make certain she can see that step and can move herself over it without falling. Then, keep a gate closed at the doorway. When your daughter wants to go from one room to the next, open the gate, caution her about the step, and help her over it. After a few months, leave the gate open to see if she can remember to be careful without your reminders. If she still trips, go back to keeping the gate closed for a few more weeks.

Dear Dr. Jones: I'm having a terrible time because my 3-year-old won't obey me. When I take her shopping with me, for example, she won't stay next to me. When I so much as turn my back, she's gone. I have threatened her, told her she'll get lost, and that someone else will get her, but she still won't obey. It always ends up with me spanking her when we get home. The same thing is true whatever I tell her and where ever we go.

I know you don't approve of spanking, but I'm at a loss to know what to do. MRS. H. P.

But you're the kind who hits a television set when it won't work! When you don't know what to do, it's wise not to do anything until you figure out what's what. If life with your daughter is as constantly miserable as you suggest it is, she may be hoping that someone else will really come and get her. A happy child isn't constantly running away or disobeying.

Let's make sense of this. Write to let me know what your daughter's average day is like. Also tell me how you handled weaning, toiletting, curiosity, free play, sociability and what your daughter does that you approve of. Use the book the title of which I'm sending you as a guide to the reasonable expectations most intelligent parents use in raising their children. Compare what you have actually expected of your daughter with this guide. Once we know how you exasperated your daughter, we can get started removing such pressures. Eventually, then, she'll respond by being cooperative.

Arizona Home of Newlyweds

Owen F. Balliet, Tucson, Ariz., claimed Miss Mary Hahner, Denver, Colo., as his bride at 11 a.m. Sept. 19 at St. Sebastian Catholic Church, Milwaukee.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Hahner, Milwaukee. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edna F. Balliet, 603 S. Walnut St., and James H. Balliet, 508 S. Memorial Drive.

Honor attendants for the couple were Mrs. John R. Hahner, Milwaukee, and Edward C. Holtz, Appleton. Miss Susan Hahner acted as flower girl. Jack Pankratz and Daniel J. Schultz shared ushering duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Balliet attended Marquette University, Milwaukee. Mrs. Balliet was graduated from Misericordia Hospital School of Nursing, Milwaukee. Her husband was graduated from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He is a special agent for Firemen's Fund, Tucson.

After a honeymoon in northern Wisconsin the couple will live in Tucson.

Dock Strike Downfall of Posh Party

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The dock strike was a party-pooper for one of Newark's poshest socials — the annual designers ball.

The $100-a-plate charity affair was held Wednesday night aboard the luxury liner Santa Rosa at the Grace Lines dock in Port Newark. The lavishly decorated liner was prepared to receive 350 guests for cocktails, a fashion show, dinner and dancing until 1:30 a.m.

About 450 dinner-jacketed and evening-gowned guests were on board when Grace Lines officials said they would have to leave the ship by 10:15 because they did not want the ship stranded at dockside when the strike hit.

They suggested the party, move to the Terminal Building on the pier.

With Sammy Kaye and his 16-piece band piping them over the side, the guests went down the gangplank.

"We've spent $30,000 for decorations, scenery and models. Now all that's going to waste," said an official of Bamberger's department stores, co-sponsor of the ball.

By 11 p.m., the guests had dwindled to about 150, mostly younger persons, who were twisting to the music of Kaye's band in the bare terminal building.

The Santa Rosa cleared port at 11:30 p.m., just under the strike deadline.

Bear Creek Boosters Elect Officers for 1964

BEAR CREEK — Booster club officers elected Monday evening were Mrs. Albert Lehman, president; Mrs. Albert Knapp, vice president; Mrs. Henry Flanagan, secretary, and Mrs. Leon Bechard, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 19, at the high school.

Engagement Of Daughter Announced

LITTLE CHUTE — Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas West, Grand Avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Helen, 1108 Lawe St., Kaukauna, to Gerald Fink, route 3, Kaukauna. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fink, route 2, Hortonville.

Miss West is a student at Kaukauna High School. Her fiancé is employed by James Lehrer, Kaukauna.

A wedding date has not been set.

Feted at Shower

MENASHA — Miss Barbara Halverson was guest of honor Sept. 15 at a miscellaneous shower at Falcon Hall. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Alfred La Count, Mrs. Max Kramarczyk, Mrs. Lyle Barnett and Mrs. Lawrence Stumpf.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Halverson, 739 Roosevelt St. She will be married to Donald La Count, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred La Count, Saturday.

Your Problems

If Beggar Accepts Food, It's a Good Investment

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I trust my judgment. There are times when I give money and live in a large city and am then decide I've been taken in frequently accosted on the street by a faker. This makes me mad. Other times I have pangs of guilt because I fear I turned down a deserving person who only wanted a little help, which I can afford to give.

All of this is terribly disturbing and I'd like your views and your advice.—Helping Hand, If I Can

Dear Helping: Nobody in America needs to beg. The very one who will touch your heart in the posthandler who has rehearsed his lines, practiced the sad look and learned how to get you where you live.

Landers

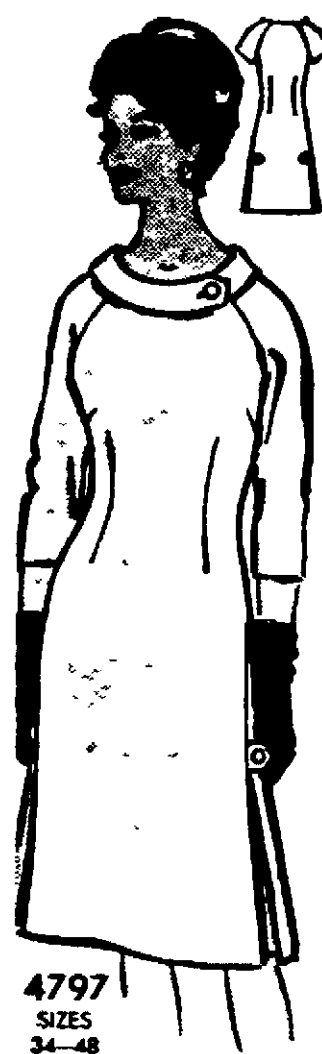

Sometimes I give these people money and so m etimes I don't. It depends on their approach, how they look, whether I'm in a hurry, and if I believe they are in need.

My problem is that I don't

Why not ask the next posthandler who approaches you if he is hungry? He will probably say "Yes." Offer to walk with him to the nearest restaurant and pay for his meal. Chances are he'll decline. If he does accept—and you feed a hungry man it's a darned good investment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My

in-laws are both 70. My husband and I have dinner with them every week. For several months now my father-in-law has not been acting very fatherly. He never does anything out of the way in the presence of his wife or my husband. He manages to get me alone—in the kitchen or in the back hall.

When I was dating I knew how to deal with characters who sneaked up and planted an unwanted kiss on the back of my neck. I simply turned around and belted them one. There was never any trouble after that.

What should I do in this case? If my husband knew he'd be wild. I don't want to make a scene but I'm fed up.—Dis-gusted

Dear D.: You can't belt a 70-year-old man, particularly a father-in-law. The old ckl is probably operating strictly from memory so call on your sense of humor to save the day

Nickname him "Old Love In Bloom" or "Casanova" and keep it loud and funny — and out in the open.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl who would like your help with a problem. It's my mother.

When I am invited to a party I voluntarily give my mother the name, address and phone number of the person who invited me. I don't object to this I do object when she calls up the mother of the person who is giving the party and gives her the third degree.

She has to know what time the party starts, when it will be over and who the chaperones are. I'm sure the mothers resent her nosiness. It also makes me look like a baby.

Will you help me out by telling my mother she shouldn't make these calls? — Embarrassed Infant

Dear Embarrassed: Sorry, but I heartily approve of the calls.

What you consider the third degree is really a healthy interest in you.

If more mothers took the time and trouble to find out where their daughters were and what they were doing I wouldn't be so busy sending out names of homes for unwed mothers.

Lonely? Uncomfortable? Just not able to make friends? Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Couple Observes 40th Anniversary

HORTONVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Steinberg, 217 W. Nye St., observed their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday at a 12:30 p.m. dinner at the Country Aire Club, Appleton.

The couple was married Sept. 28, 1924, at Maribel. They have two daughters and six grandchildren.

easy to wear, easy to change about for a different look and ever so comfortable. What's more, they can trim the figure or add to the figure if you wish. Fuller skirts are often preferred, either pleated, gathered or slightly gored. Even the stouter girl finds that the proper size pants, jover-blouses are favorites with most girls, yet a taller lassie, may want to cinch hers in the middle to break the longer look. Skirt lengths look best barely covering the knee . . . or barely haring the knee. Skirts way above the knees are not flattering to anyone and not in good taste. When it comes to stockings, there's such a selection of colors, textures and designs, you'll want several different kinds in matching or coordinating colors for an over-all top-toe fashionable look.

Schoolbuses Stop In New York City

87,000 Pupils Left Stranded

BY RICHARD F. WHALEN
NEW YORK (AP) — A schoolbus drivers' slowdown became a shutdown today. The bus company suspended service for 87,000 pupils in New York City.

The company, Children's Bus Service, Inc., cited the "inconvenience and possible injury to school children resulting from the slowdown." School officials and the company both charged that the slowdown the past four school days was a tactic in a union jurisdictional fight.

"This is strictly a safety campaign," said Fred Saporita, president of Local 1181 of the Amalgamated Transit Union. Drivers complained of equipment needing repair and of breakdowns on the road.

Left standing on the corner, sometimes in the rain, were thousands of school children — an estimated 15,000 Wednesday.

The Board of Education urged parents of children who use Children's Bus Service to make "the best arrangements they can" to get their children to the school today.

James B. Donovan, president of the Board of Education, said the slowdown, as well as the school boycotts by civil rights groups and by white parent groups earlier this year were "outrages."

"Special groups in this city have deliberately disrupted the public school system and education of our children in an attempt to attain particular objectives," he said.

"It must be made a badge of shame for any individual in this city to injure our school children to serve their own ends."

After the company announced the suspension of service late Wednesday, Mayor Robert F. Wagner said that he had assigned the city's chief labor mediator, Morris Tarshis, to look into the dispute.

It began last Friday when some drivers refused to drive what they called unsafe buses and 25,000 pupils missed classes or were late. For the next three days some ignition keys disappeared, windshield wipers broke down and buses moved slowly on routes.

The company said Local 1181 was trying to impose the terms of its contract on 10 much smaller companies that transport some 5,000 pupils for the Board

Tell Council Not to Let Unity Interfere

Archbishop Tells Vatican Session Not to Compromise Basic Beliefs

BY BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council was urged today not to allow concern for Christian unity to compromise basic Roman Catholic beliefs.

Speaking in council debate on the divine revelation, Archbishop Joseph Attipetty of Verapoly, India, defended nonbiblical Roman Catholic beliefs based on tradition. Nothing could be more dangerous than to allow ecumenical considerations to endanger the faith, Archbishop Attipetty said.

the basis that theologians themselves are not in agreement. Archbishop Attipetty, arguing against this approach, said: "The issue must be clarified."

Otherwise, he added, it might appear that the Roman Catholic Church "has been generating false doctrine on tradition up to now."

He said the matter should be submitted to Pope Paul VI for decision if the council could come to no agreement. Several Italian bishops spoke in a similar vein.

Iowa's H. R. Gross Says German Beauty May Have Stolen Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowa Republican H. R. Gross told the House Wednesday that German beauty Elly Rometsch, "the life of any party," may have stolen missile secrets from the federal space agency.

The lowan said he had no information that the woman was a spy, but added her activities "place" in Washington, may have stolen missile secrets and theft of missile secrets.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress passed Wednesday and sent to President Johnson a bill expanding the Reserve Officer Training Corps program in high schools and colleges.

The action amounted to a victory for Rep. F. Edward Hebert, Louisiana Democrat who is a strong booster of the program, and a defeat for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who proposed eliminating the high school program while expanding the college program.

The junior ROTC program will spread from 254 high schools to a maximum of 1,200. The 75-foot tall, 156-inch diameter rocket was fired at the ROTC by Potrero test center Wednesday in a two-minute static test.

Col. Harold Robbins, director of the large solid rocket motor program, said the test again will get monthly retainer pay of at least $40 instead of the current $27 a month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 75 officials of veterans organizations were entertained at the White House Wednesday night and were told by President Johnson: "Our society was built on respect for law and order—and we mean to maintain that. But our society was built also on respect for rights and dignity —and we mean to strengthen them."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield is sounding out his fellow senators on a recess until after the November election, a plan that the Montanan said Wednesday is under serious consideration in the House.

"I had hoped that we could end the session by Saturday night," Mansfield said, "but it appears the prospects are we will be in session all of next week."

But No Bomb

Defiant 'Revolution' Cry Heard at Red Chinese 15th Anniversary Rites

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China celebrated its 15th birthday today with the defiant cry "a powerful industrial system that revolution is the locomotive of history." It apparently did not choose to mark the occasion by touching off an atomic bomb.

Peking's Mayor Peng Chen sounded the revolutionary key-note, reiterating the tough policy which Moscow deplores, before thousands of Chinese and foreign dignitaries massed in the Square of Celestial Peace in the Chinese capital.

Though there had been lively speculation that the Chinese might cap the day's festivities with an announcement that they had fired their first nuclear device, neither Peng nor President Liu Shao-chi even mentioned the word nuclear in anniversary addresses.

Subject Avoided The subject also was avoided in lengthy anniversary editorials in the official Peking People's Daily and the theoretical party journal Red Flag.

Japanese correspondents in Peking reported that informed Chinese sources said U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk's statement that Red China may explode a nuclear device soon was a "fabrication."

"No one," the Chinese sources said, "not even Chairman Mao Tse-tung or President Liu Shao-chi, knows when Communist China will explode a nuclear device."

"Bound to Rise" The oppressed peoples are bound to rise in revolution, the imperialists and all the reactionaries will inevitably perish and the world is sure to march forward," Mayor Peng shouted in the day's major speech before 500,000 paraders began moving through the square.

"This is the law of historical development, which no one can alter. The people of the whole world should unite and persevere in struggle; our prospects are infinitely bright."

Peng said "this will be a year suffered a stroke. Vatican officials announced today.

The announcement was made in the Vatican Ecumenical Council. The assembled prelates were asked to pray for the 74-year-old Belgian who has been head of the Jesuits for 18 years.

Red China Marks 15th Year In Spite of Stalin's Advice

Stubborn Leaders Are Older, But Have Not Lost Their Shrewdness

BY JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Stalin said of revolution and violence to Africa, Asia and South America, their insurrection had no prospects, told them to disarm and return to politics. But today, the stubborn men who scorned the old Bolshevik's orders celebrate the 15th anniversary of Red respect and, in some cases, admiration.

Some are bent by age, but the Chinese leaders taking the sure of a half million of their fellow countrymen in Peking's Square of Heavenly Peace have lost none of the shrewdness of the imagination which made them masters of China in 1949.

Then, as now, four men occupy the chief places of power. They are Communist Chairman Mao Tze-Tung, 70, the Chinese Premier Liu Shao-Chi, 66, white-haired one-time labor organizer, Premier Chou En-lai, 66, China's most skillful diplomat, and Marshal Chu Teh, 77, chairman of the standing committee of the National People's Congress.

List Accomplishments
Since Oct. 1, 1949, they have radically altered the way of life and thought of 700 million Chinese.

—Challenged the two mightiest nations on earth, the United States and Soviet Union.

—Split international Communism into hostile camps and reasserted Chinese influence in Europe for the first time since the Mongol conquests of the 13th Century.

—Extended their philosophy into a modern state.

Heavy industry, particularly steel, made spectacular advances. Consumer production was up, wages comparatively high. Agriculture was pulling itself out of a centuries-old slump.

From this platform, Mao and associates launched their ambitious program for an industrial "Great Leap Forward." To prop up this program, Mao forged the agricultural communes, herding the nation's 500 million peasants into thousands of communities centrally controlled and administered.

Blows to Plans
Natural disasters, Communist ineptitude and Soviet sabotage delivered crippling blows to all these plans.

The communes have been reduced to decentralized units. Militarily, Mao possesses an army of considerable strength but, the experts say, of limited capability. Thanks to the Chinese leader's quarrel with Premier Khrushchev, it lacks a nuclear punch. His air force is small, his navy modest.

Travelers report the Chinese are better fed than they have been since 1961, when floods, typhoons, drought and locusts coupled with the withdrawal of Soviet aid, left the country starving in some places and generally prostrate.

Stalin's Advice
Stalin's advice to the Chinese to put away their guns came at the close of World War II after he had handed them Shanhai, gateway to the rich industrial region of Manchuria. Stalin's contemptuous estimate of their future prospects was made after Mao's forces had been defeated there by Chiang. Stalin is long dead and long forgiven. But Khrushchev is something else again. Neither time nor circumstances are likely to mellow him in the Chinese memory.

The Chinese accuse him of hitting below the belt with cancellation of a promise to deliver an atom bomb to Peking in 1959. They complain about the withdrawal of Soviet aid, experts and blueprints in 1960 and the signing of a Nuclear Test Ban Treaty in 1963 aimed, the Chinese contend, at depriving them of the chance to build an atom bomb of their own.

Truth Released
Until recently, no one knew in detail how seriously Khrushchev's quarrel with Mao had hurt the Chinese in the early 1960s. On Aug. 5, 1963, the State Department released 29 issues of a secret Red Chinese military publication which gave a partial answer. It is full of reports of peasant rebellion, hunger, starvation and disarray in the civil population, depressed morale in the army, resentment and impatience with the Communist Party.

Mao set about shoring up the Red establishment. His answer was discipline, a purge of corrupt and weak elements in the army and the party and a campaign to salvage what was left of the wreckage.

Buffeted by his enemies both within and outside the Communist bloc, still plagued by deficiencies at home, Mao's People's Republic at 15 is still very much an invalid.

But the miracle is that it is alive at all.

Chinese Leaders, on the 15th anniversary of the communists becoming masters of China, are the same four men who led the fight to power in 1949. They are, from left, top row: President Liu Shao-Chi, 66, and Communist Chairman Mao Tze-Tung, 70. Bottom row: Marshal Chu Teh, 78, chairman of the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress, and Premier Chou En-Lai, 66. (AP Wirephoto)

Unsolicited Mail Flood Causing Many Protests

Is your mail box cluttered with unsolicited and unwanted mail of the "junk" or "trash" variety? If so, your name is probably on one or more mailing lists which are sold or rented to commercial mailers.

If you resent this flood of advertisements and solicitations, what can you do about it? No one is required to accept such mail. You can hand it back to the postman or mark it "refused" and drop it in any mailbox. The Post Office will then destroy it or return it to the sender and charge him eight cents for its return if the envelope is marked "Return requested."

Of course, you can request that the sender remove your name from his mailing list, but if he rents or buys the list from others, this is probably useless.

Useless Replies

Most of the unwanted mail includes a postage-paid envelope or card for reply. A reply card, blank or filled in, that is returned costs the receiver six cents for ordinary mail and eight cents for air mail. Envelopes returned cost seven and 10 cents, respectively. Some rate householders return empty envelopes or blank cards to "punish" the recipient by making him pay for useless replies, but this doesn't get his name off the mailing list.

Many people are very resentful over this unwanted flood of

P. A. Bachelder Named K-C Chief In Latin America

R. J. Appert To Take Over Coosa Division

NEENAH — P. A. Bachelder, general manager of the Coosa River, Ala., Newsprint Division, today was named area director, Latin America, for the international division of Kimberly-Clark Corp.

His Coosa River duties and responsibilities will be assumed by R. J. Appert, vice president, newsprint. The changes are effective Nov. 1.

Full Control
Bachelder will exercise full control of operations in Latin America and Puerto Rico by providing technical and management liaison with U.S. headquarters. He also will promote area development, coordinate sales efforts and extend marketing assistance in Mexico, Central and South America from his headquarters in Neenah.

Besides export activities in all Latin American countries, Kimberly-Clark has manufacturing and sales organizations for its broad line of household and sanitary protection paper products in Mexico, El Salvador, Panama and Venezuela.

A graduate of Bowdoin College, Bachelder joined Kimberly-Clark in 1945. In 1948 he was assigned to the Coosa River Newsprint Co. as comptroller and served successively as secretary, assistant treasurer, secretary and treasurer, vice president, executive vice president and president.

Merger
He has been general manager of the Coosa River Newsprint Division since the firm merged with Kimberly-Clark in 1962. He also was executive vice president and general manager for 24 years of the predecessor firm of Kimberly-Clark de Mexico.

Appert was graduated from the University of Minnesota and joined the Kimberly-Clark engineering department in 1937. He transferred to sales in 1941.

PSC Sets Hearing On Greyhound Fares

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing in Madison on Oct. 16 on a request by Greyhound Lines, Inc., to raise bus fares 10 per cent between Wisconsin points.

The increase is the same as one requested on interstate fares and in 16 other states, including Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa, the commission said.

Diabetic Clinic Put Off a Week

NEENAH — The diabetic clinic at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, usually held the first Neenah and Menasha teach at week of the month, has been postponed to Oct. 12 through 14, counsel to the students joined the New York office of Spruce Falls Power and Paper Co., Ltd., in 1946 and later was elected a vice president of that company. He was named a Kimberly-Clark vice president in 1961. He has had overall responsibility in operations, marketing and development for the Coosa River Newsprint Division since the 1962 merger.

School Draws Its Students From 14 Cities

Menasha St. Mary Has Pupils From 22 Different Parishes

MENASHA — The record shows that St. Mary High School Menasha, is truly centrally located for the education of Catholic youth at the headwaters of the Fox River.

"Students are enrolled in our school this year from 22 parishes and 14 cities and towns in this area," revealed the Rev. Donald Stoegebauer, school administrator. "Our goals here are distinctive excellence academically, a worthy competitor in sports and the equipping of students to build a better world."

"The prayer of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Becker, pastor of St. Mary's and principal of our school, is that each student become the salt and light and leave the world needs. Our new high school principal, Sister Mary Marella, SSND, has her sights trained on the fullest academic potential for every student."

Among the 612 students enrolled in the four classes at St. Mary High School this year are students from St. Bernardette, Sacred Heart, St. Thomas, St. Joseph, St. Mary's, St. Rose of Lima, Clintonville, Holy Angels, Darby, St. Aloysius, Holy Cross, St. Mary, Kaukauna, Holy Name, Kimberly, St. Edward, Mackville, St. John, St. Mary and St. Patrick, Menasha, St. Gabriel and St. Margaret Mary. Neenah, Most Precious Blood, New London, St. Peter, Oshkosh, Sacred Heart, Sherwood, St. Mary, Stockbridge, and Conception, Port-au-Prince, Haiti.

This year's staff at St. Mary's includes 20 religious teachers and 10 lay teachers. The School Sisters of Notre Dame are charged with the responsibility for the curriculum and teaching of the boys and girls and 12 nuns are on the high school staff.

YMCA Physical Director Named Associate General Secretary

Leland McGuire Recognized for Work During Year Guiding Program Activities

Leland (Mickey) McGuire, Appleton YMCA physical director, has been named associate general secretary by the YMCA board of directors.

The board also promoted Robert Tucker, associate youth director for the last two years, to the new position of young adults secretary.

William Siekman, chairman of the board's personnel committee, announced the new appointments, made as a result of an annual review of staff personnel by his committee.

McGuire will continue his work as physical director and also will have added responsibilities in administration and overall program direction.

James Warrick, general secretary, said the new position

Youths Plead Guilty To Breaking Into 3 T-C Business Places

OSHKOSH — Pre-sentence investigation was ordered by County Judge James Sitter Wednesday on burglary charges against Richard C. Piette 19, 66, Lawson St., Menasha, and David Lee Hahn, 20, 2637 S. Jackson St., Appleton. Sentencing was set for Oct. 21 and they were jailed in default of $1,000 bond.

They pleaded guilty Wednesday of breaking into the Auto-Mat, 320 Main St., Gib's Sinclair Service, 333 Main St., and Kwik-Shake Inn, 915 Winneconne Ave., all in Neenah on Sept. 8.

Piette also admitted breaking into a Town of Harrison tavern that same morning while Hahn, who is also charged with that break-in, has not entered a plea as yet to that charge. The Calumet County charge is being consolidated with the Neenah charges.

Submarine Thresher's Tail Section Found

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said today that underwater search operations this summer located the tail section of the sunken submarine Thresher and the sub's sail bearing her number, 593.

This was the most conclusive evidence yet of the location of the remains of the nuclear submarine, which went down with 129 men aboard in April 1963, during deep-dive tests off the New England coast.

The Thresher was lost in about 8,400 feet of water, some 220 miles east of Boston.

Action Deferred on Hub Cap Theft Charge

OSHKOSH — Sentencing of Donald R. Jacobsen, 19, 946 Betty Ave., Neenah, and Paul F. Siehr, 19, 334 Third St., Menasha, on a petty theft charge involving four hub caps from a car in a Winneconne used car lot was deferred by County Judge James Sitter until Oct. 7.

The two youths pleaded guilty to the charge Tuesday but on Wednesday indicated they may seek counsel. They were jailed without bond until Oct. 7.

Red Feather Drive Begins Campaign

2,200 Workers Seek to Raise $188,251 for Ten Groups

All units of the 1964 United Year's Red Feather campaign in Red Feather Campaign began the recognition of Fair Share activity today, Norman A. Golz, campaign chairman, reports.

Over 2,200 workers are seeking $188,251 for the 10 Red Feather agencies in this year's drive, Golz said. With the thorough organization this year, it is expected the 11,171 contributions received last year will be exceeded and the 9 per cent increase will be achieved, he said.

Reasons for the increased goal this year were spelled out by Mrs. Harold Ornstein, United Community Services president. The UCS conducts the Red Feather campaign in support of all agencies which wish to be included and meet the standards set up for inclusion.

Increased Funds
Increased funds are required by the Red Feather agencies to keep up with the growth of the community, she said. It is almost overwhelming to realize that the population of the Appleton area has increased 10 per cent in the last three years, Mrs. Ornstein said. These agencies are faced with the same increased costs that each of us faces, she added.

Last year the Red Feather campaign reached its goal for the first time in seven years. We are still making up for the six years when the goal was not reached, Mrs. Ornstein said.

Another reason for the goal increase is the proposed addition to the United Community Services program. With demands for increased services and recreation, both governmental and voluntary, some priorities need to be set, the UCS president said.

It is proposed that comprehensive long range planning for health, welfare and recreation be initiated by the UCS. Additional part-time staff will be needed to do this, said Mrs. Ornstein.

She pointed out the UCS is presently spending less than it did in 1958. The proposed increase would still not be more than other community funds and certification as a YMCA secret-councils are spending and we tary, which include two years will be doing much more, said Mrs. Ornstein.

NHS Host to Kimberly in Harrier Meet

NEENAH — Coach Terry Lynch's Neenah cross country team will hold its first home meet of the season Friday afternoon when it entertains Kimberly in a dual at Riverside Park. The meet will start between 4:15 and 4:30 p.m.

The Rockets are still looking for their initial victory after placing second to Appleton in a 6-team meet at Kaukauna and fourth among the five large school teams in the Shawano Invitational last weekend.

Kimberly was third in a Menasha - New London meet and fifth in the small school division at Shawano although its Kroner placed first.

The Rockets will entertain Neenah in a "B" and "C" meet Tuesday afternoon and compete with Appleton and Kaukauna in a triangular at Salvation Army, 11:00 a.m. Kimberly next Wednesday. A week from Saturday they'll be in the Manitowoc - Two Rivers Invitational.

Members of Congress Singing the 'Blues'

BY FRANCES LACKUSICK
Post-Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON—With election day pressing closer and closer, members of the Wisconsin House delegation this week joined weary colleagues in singing the new congressional blues hit — "Adjournment Is a Sometimes Thing."

Most of the Badger State legislators have been commuting weekly between Washington and Wisconsin in an effort to keep their campaign on the road while at the same time being on tap if, by accident, an important piece of legislation comes up on the floor of the House.

An exception to the commuting routine is Rep. John W. Byrnes, R—Green Bay, the top Republican on the House Conference Committee currently trying to iron out differences in the Senate-House Social Security legislation. The bone of contention is the Senate provision for "Medicare."

"Still Talking"

"I've only had a chance to get home to Wisconsin for two weekends this month," Byrnes complained. "The rest of the time I've been buried in conference committee hearings. We started them last week, and we are still talking."

Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R—Richland Center, whose new district necessitates a lot of traveling, has been running back and forth from Wisconsin to Washington. "Just on the off-chance we might get some legislation important enough to vote on."

"I had to cancel a speech in Milwaukee before the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night because I understood we were going to have a legislative program Wednesday," the former governor said. "but nothing happened—as usual. All this uncertainty is disgusting."

Reporting that "for the past few weeks," he has been commuting between Washington and Wisconsin on a weekly basis, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R—Marshfield, optimistically believes that "the 88th Congress is getting ready to adjourn."

Little Optimism

But other congressmen did not share this optimism.

For instance, they noted that instead of taking up the legislative program scheduled for Wednesday, the House instead considered a few minor bills and then heard a speech by Rep. H. R. Gross, R—Iowa, on scandals within the Democratic administration.

Much of the congressman's speech was devoted to a comparison of the activities of gay ladies who allegedly were under the supervision of former senate aide Bobby Baker, and the Christine Keeler-Profumo affair which shook the British empire.

Gross's conclusions intimated that the Washington gay ladies had it all over Christine Keeler in just about every respect.

In the meantime, the election date is just about a month away.

Kaukauna Motorist Facing Trial on Traffic Charges

WAUPACA — Alvin J. Driessen, 48, route 1, Kaukauna, denied a charge of driving after his license was revoked when he appeared Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Driessen had originally been scheduled to appear in court Sept. 23. A $250 property bond posted in his behalf was forfeited. Justice George Whalen set a trial date at 10 A.M. Nov. 6, and Driessen had to post another bond of $125 before he was released.

When Driessen failed to appear Sept. 23, court action was started in Circuit Court to claim the forfeited property bond.

Driessen was arrested May 4 for driving after revocation on a complaint signed by the Waupaca County Sheriff.

Woman Bruised In Chilton Mishap

CHILTON — Mrs. Bernice Van Eperen, 43, of 237 Theresa Ave., Appleton, suffered leg cuts and bruises at 7 p.m. Tuesday when she was pinned between two cars on E. Main Street here, city police said.

She was treated at Calumet Memorial Hospital and released. Mrs. Van Eperen was pinned between cars driven by her husband and Otto Schroeder, 75, of 169 E. Main St., Chilton. City police said Mrs. Van Eperen was walking between the two cars when the Schroeder auto backed up, pinning her. The cars were not damaged.

Shawano County Board Miffed by Deputy Costs

SHAWANO—Shawano County threats and demonstrations Board members, interested in getting out from under the financial burden of a 24-hour guard on a truck driver charged with the deaths of two NFO pickets during a demonstration earlier last month at Bonduel, instead found themselves Wednesday acting upon a request to beef up salaries of deputy sheriffs.

The board was informed by Sheriff Carl Krueger that up to Wednesday that August and September costs for deputy fees and mileage affording protection from anticipated NFO cars on E. Main Street here, city police said.

Escapée Who Sawed Jail Bar Sentenced

Winnebago County Judge Gives Him Total of 10½ Years

OSHKOSH — The Winnebago county jail escapee who told the court today that he is the one who sawed the bar in the county jail early Tuesday which led to the escape of four prisoners will be spending the next several years at the state prison at Waupun.

James W. Bush, 25, 417 W. Green Bay St., Shawano, received sentences totaling 10½ years on five counts of burglary, one on attempted burglary, one on car theft and one on escape from the county jail. The sentences were imposed by County Judge James Sitter.

Bush had pleaded guilty to the burglary charges earlier and the escape charge today. He was to have been sentenced Wednesday. Bush was returned Wednesday afternoon from Shawano where he was apprehended Tuesday night.

The sentences are three years on each of the five burglary charges, to run concurrently. Green Bay: heating and ventilation years on the car theft charge, one year on the escape charge, one year on the attempted burglary charge. The Green Bay: electrical, $44,855, latter sentences are to run consecutively to the burglary sentences.

Calumet County
The car theft involved the entering of the Coffey Motors, Inc., garage in the Town of Harrison in Calumet County. One burglary charge was for breaking into the Larsen Co-operative Co. at Larsen in the Town of Clayton. The other burglaries were committed in Manitowoc, Marquette and Clark Counties. All took place between Aug. 3 and 11.

A companion of his in the escape, Lester E. Hirte, 32, 118 V. 12th Ave., Oshkosh, also pleaded guilty of escape this morning. He was charged with truck theft and a burglary allegedly committed after the escape Tuesday. Further proceedings on these two charges were deferred until Oct. 6. He stood firm on his chamber's inclusion of the administration-backed health care plan in a So-an Oshkosh grocery store burglary charge to which he has not entered a plea.

The first floor will be a lounge and quarters for the house-mothers and the next five levels will house 40 girls on each floor. Construction will start immediately, with completion scheduled for September, 1965.

No Agreement on Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference on health care for the aged broke up today in deadlock.

The conference committee adjourned "subject to call" after the Senate members voted to stand firm on their chamber's inclusion of the administration-backed health care plan in a Social Security bill and the House members voted an equally uncompromising rejection.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the conference and of the House Ways and Means Committee, told newsmen of the outcome. He said no alternative proposals were discussed and he could not predict when the conference might reconvene.

If the conferees do not agree on a compromise Social Security bill, and the two chambers do not ratify their decision, before Congress adjourns, increased retirement benefits as well as the health care plan will not become law.

'Extra Pay' for Teachers Plan Examined by Appleton Board

much lower, and there has been much improvement in salaries during the last 10 years.

Spears said the provision was started when the maximum salary was about $4,000. A $400 payment then was about 10 percent of the salary, he said, but with the maximum salary now about $8,000, it is only 5 percent.

Head of Family
The $400 "head of family" provision in the teachers' salary schedule also has been questioned by school board members and others, including the Appleton Taxpayers Association. A common provision in Wisconsin school systems, the payment is given to teachers, men or women, who certify they are the main support of their family. The payment, given only to teachers and not to principals or other school system employees, is added to the individual's step on the salary schedule.

The Appleton Taxpayers Association recommended two years ago that the head of family differential be eliminated at that time the association presented the board with a report on the school budget, prepared at its request by the Public Expenditures Survey of Wisconsin, which said the differential has no relationship to the ability to teach and should not be part of the salary schedule. It suggested a study of schedule adjustments to gradually eliminate it.

Some school board members have raised the question at various times during the past two years, but note it probably will take several years to eliminate the payment on a gradual basis, but I was scorned.

Two Injured In Car Crash

Two persons are in Kaukauna Community Hospital for injuries they received when the cars they were driving collided on County Trunk J near Little Chute Wednesday.

Confined with bruises and a possible concussion is Robert K. Anderson, 29, route 1, Kaukauna. Michael Schuh, 19, route 1, Kaukauna, complained of hip injuries. He was the driver of the second car.

Appleton Man Fined For Reckless Driving

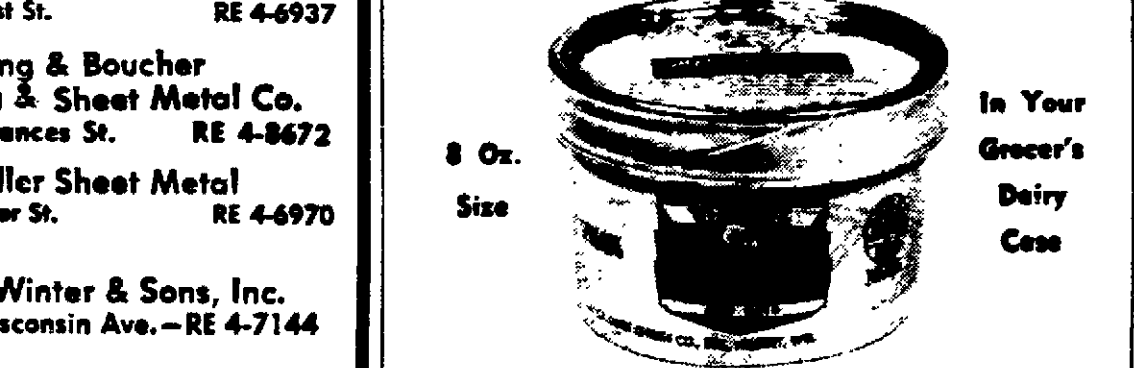

Loren A. Lawrence, 55, 1425 W. Second St., was fined $100 and costs Wednesday on his plea of guilty to a charge of reckless driving. The charge was reduced from driving while under the influence of alcohol by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer.

Lawrence was arrested by state police June 14 and posted bond of $250. Police said he was seen driving erratically on State 10 in the Township of Greenville. He did not take a chemical test after his arrest.

Enthusiastic Cadets Catch Wrong Spy On Red Bicycle

STANTON BY DALE, Eng- land (AP) — British army and Royal Air Force cadets were carrying out a field exercise near the home of 13-year-old Frank Baker. They were told to catch a spy riding a red bicycle. The enthusiastic cadets — a sort of British ROTC. — began scouring the countryside. On a country road they spotted Frank on his red bike. "About 15 cadets hopped me," the boy said today. "They let the air out of my tires and tied me to a gate. I kept telling them I was no spy, but they wouldn't believe me."

Then the cadets went off to look for their supervising officer. Frank struggled and shout- ed for more than 30 minutes before another bicyclist re- leased him. A police spokesman said as far as he knew, the spy the cadets were supposed to catch was still at large.

Activities Set For Highway Week in State

Bid Openings for Road Projects to Begin Observance

"In recognition of the importance of highway transportation to the social and economic progress and defense of our nation," President Lyndon Johnson has proclaimed the first week in October "National Highway Week."

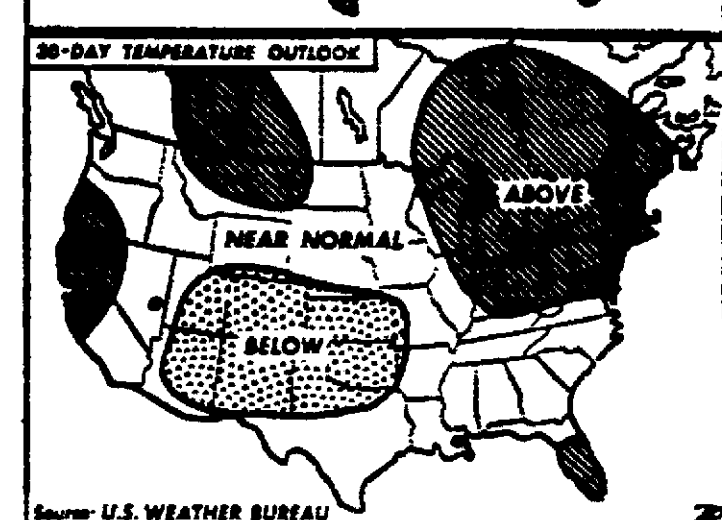

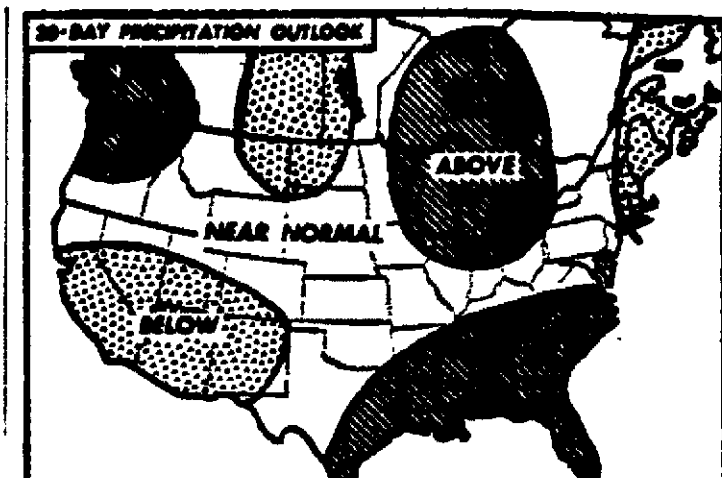

Gov. John Reynolds has declared State Highway Safety Week to run coincidentally with the national observance.

Because there are more than 2 million registered drivers and 18 million licensed vehicles in the state, Reynolds said, it becomes increasingly important that we emphasize safe driving. This is especially so, he said, in light of the fact that we are dependent on highway transportation today for most everything that is eaten, worn or used.

Bid Opening

A variety of events and activities throughout the state will help to focus attention on highway safety. These include an Oct. 8 bid opening for highway improvement projects and a seminar on right-of-way acquisition Oct. 9 and 10 at Wisconsin Center, Madison.

Official openings are scheduled for a Saturday early in October on a new Chippewa River bridge to replace the Careyville ferry in Dunn County, for Leonard Carroll, 320 E. Main St., Chilton, and Elizabeth Schnell, route 4, Chilton.

Central State Tests Ordered For DeKeyser

SHAWANO — Leland Clet us

DeKeyser, 39, was ordered to Central State Hospital, Waupun, Wednesday afternoon by Judge Kenneth Traeger, after he was involved in challenge of statements bound over to branch 2 of Shawano - Menominee County Court on a charge of feloniously causing the death of Mrs. Violet Figinski, Navarino, on Sept. 21.

The body of the 60-year-old, 299-pound Mrs. Figinski, throat slashed, was found in a ditch near her rural home by a school bus driver and DeKeyser, picked up by authorities the same day, signed a statement admitting the slaying.

He appeared before Judge Traeger on Sept. 23 and Orville Luckenbach was appointed defense attorney when DeKeyser said he had no funds.

Luckenbach Wednesday entered a plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity for DeKeyser and asked that he be sent to Central State for examination. After a summary investigation and conference with Luckenbach and Dist. Atty. M. J. Eberlein, Judge Traeger ordered DeKeyser sent for a mini-

V. Sitter Wednesday on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.

Grygny pleaded no contest to the charge.

Grygny was arrested Sept. 7 by Neenah police on South Commercial Street. He was involved in a picture caption in Wednesday's Post-Crescent as being from the Seventh Day Adventist Church. St. James Methodist Church, which is making plans to build a new church, was incorrectly identified in the picture caption in Wednesday's Post-Crescent as being from the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

22 Bullet Crashes Into Youth's Bed
BLACK CREEK — Theodore Reinke Jr., 13, escaped serious injury Tuesday when a spent 22 caliber rifle shell crashed through his bedroom window and hit the headboard on his bed in his parents' home.

Outagamie County sheriff authorities said Reinke had left the bed minutes before. He had been confined to bed Tuesday due to illness.

Investigators interviewed neighbors, and said no one heard shot, fired at the time of the incident, which was placed shortly before 5 p.m.

Authorities warned hunters to fire their weapons only in designated areas and to stay away from village and town limits.

The Reinke incident was considered an accidental shooting.

Correction

LITTLE CHUTE — Joal Velie, 208 Jefferson St., Kaukauna, was found guilty by Raymond Sanders, municipal justice, on a hit and run driving charge Thursday and did not plead guilty as stated in Saturday's Post-Crescent. Velie pleaded not guilty, but was adjudged guilty by Sanders after testimony was taken from two occupants of the car involved in the misnap with Velie. The Post-Crescent was misinformed.

Jingo Critical of New Series 'The Reporter'

Show Starring Harry Guardino Worse Than Unlamented 'Saints and Sinners'

BY JINGO

Hoping that this may be premature, let Jingo enter a minority report on the new series "The Reporter."

The Harry Guardino vehicle is, if this is possible, even worse than the late, but unlamented, "Saints and Sinners."

Away back when Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur put their compatriots on the stage in their classic "Front Page," the newspaper fraternity gained a stereotype that has haunted and lived with it all these years.

Out of "Front Page" came the brash, hat-on-the-back-of-his-head, cynical, skeptic who found tears to be a part of his stock in trade while he sneered and laughed as he pounded out moving prose for the recurring editions. The stereotype was a professional without heart, dedicated, if at all, merely to the proposition of filling the columns of his paper with stuff whose reading would cause hordes of people to snatch the editions of his stands in preference to his being competition.

He could be characterized as a juggernaut, plowing a head and beware any newsworthy personality or event that got in his way. He wasn't involved. He was just doing his job and the cardinal rule was no rule at all egocentric. "Unfulfilled" mudd—no holds barred—with the sole exception that what he wrote was true.

Rest of Picture

He was extremely knowledgeable, having obtained an encyclopedic store of information about his beat. He conned, perhaps, but he could never be conned and if anyone tried, he immediately became an object for blistering revenge.

We've lived with this stereotype. We've seen cubs come into the newsroom with "Front Page" written in their eyes and we've had to temper the Hecht out of them. With some refinements, we've even been happy with the stereotype. And when, through the years, every once in awhile, a Clark Gable appeared as he did in "Teacher's Pet" or a Humphrey Bogart appeared in such as "The Harder They Fall," we've even seen something of an ideal newsman struggle up out of the Hecht—MacArthur stereotype.

But now moving prose for the recurring editions. The stereotype was a professional without heart, dedicated, if at all, merely to the proposition of filling the columns of his paper with stuff whose reading would cause hordes of people to snatch the editions of his stands in preference to his being competition.

He could be characterized as a juggernaut, plowing a head and beware any newsworthy personality or event that got in his way. He wasn't involved. He was just doing his job and the cardinal rule was no rule at all egocentric. "Unfulfilled" mudd—no holds barred—with the

What a Fate!

But are we to live with the neurotic, unprepared, hysterical, cardinal rule was no rule at all egocentric. "Unfulfilled" mudd—no holds barred—with the our heads are gray and bowed? What a fate! What a sadness! Let's hope that it is unnecessary to report that real reporters are not really like "Front Page" reporters. Certainly they are not like "The Reporter" and it is our ardent wish that no future reporter takes the Guardino character as his model. If he does, please, stay away from us.

Radio could be a good spot for such as this. A recent display of the involved, usefully unprepared, almost from-the-top, "cramming" reporter was featured on Fox Cities radio listeners during the last primary election. In the circles this so-called Appleton radio "commentary" moves, "The Reporter" should be ace-high—almost biographical. Jingo's happy he doesn't travel in those circles, though.

Yoks Beat Out Medicine for Dr. Kildare

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Disease is forgotten as Dr. Kildare presents a delightful comic romp. "Maybe Love Will Save My Apartment House" is a wacky comedy about a winning nut (Suzy Parker) who is a widow with two young children to support and barely enough sense to do it. She is related to Gillespie (Raymond Massey), who determines to find her a husband.

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Defenders concludes "The 700 Year Old Gang," a poignant comedy with a brilliant performance by Jack Gilford as an old man, accused of bootlegging, who only wants to feel useful in the world.

6:30-7 (Channel 2) — Bob Denver, Alan Hale, Jim Backus, Tina Louise and others get shipwrecked to open a new series called Gilligan's Island. It's all supposed to be fun. Premiere

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — My Three Sons borrows from O. Henry's "Gift of the Magi" for a charming episode. Bub is planning a bridal shower for Mike's fiancée (everything pink and impractical). But Sally (Meredith MacRae) at practical Mike's (Tim Considine) urging, requests a practical shower.

8:30-9 (Channel 11) — It's Saturday evening in Peyton Place as Constance is eating at home with her old friend Matthew Swain. Allison is dating Rodney. Betty is reluctantly going out with Bud. Laura is reluctant about dining with Dr. Rossi. And Betty, at the town's cafe, does a wild watusi.

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5) — Hazel's cooking saves the day again when business rivals show up at the Baxter home, one expecting stuffed pork chops, and the other turkey. (COLOR)

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — The Kraft Suspense Theater returns with a well-written, ably acted, sardonic drama about four unhappy people. Albert Dekker is a cabinetmaker who makes plans to leave his considerable estate to his niece, cutting out his wife with $5. Jo Van Fleet is the driving, cold wife who never lets her husband forget she married beneath her class. (COLOR) SEASON PREMIERE

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the CORINEX plan. You must lose weight for or work back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The CORINEX plan contains a tiny tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take CORINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because CORINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course CORINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight CORINEX can be a powerful helper. The CORINEX plan costs $3.50 and is sold in this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your dealer and get your full money back. No questions asked. The CORINEX plan is sold with this guarantee by: FORD DRUG STORES—32 W. College—MILWAUKEE, WIS. 53101

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

TEENAGERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO USE THE FAMILY CAR! TRUE □ FALSE □

False. Use of the family car is a privilege, not a right. Many a family lets their responsible teen-age children use the automobile from time to time. But young people should not abuse the privilege. They should clear with their parents before taking the car. They should be expected to bring the car back in good condition as received, or face the responsibility for any damage done. Parents help their teen-agers take such responsibility by laying down specific regulations for the use of the automobile before giving the youngster the keys.

Other aspects of parent-child relationships are explored in the latest book we are offering, "What Should Parents Expect From Children?" To get your copy, send 25 cents and your name and address to this column, care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Star Talent in Ringling Show At Bay Arena

Circus to Give 6 Performances, First One 4:15 P.M. Friday

Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus begins a string of six performances at 4:15 p.m. Friday with all of its three rings filled with dazzling talent designed to provide thrills, awe and laughs.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" will be making its first appearance in Northeastern Wisconsin in four years and the roster of artists includes both familiar and new acts.

Now on its 94th yearly tour, the 1964 edition of Ringling Brothers brings to Green Bay a cast of 350 performers and 45 individual acts in a two and one-half hour performance.

After Friday's afternoon opener, shows will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, 11 a.m., 2:30 and 8 p.m. Saturday, and the windup show at 5 p.m. Sunday afternoon after the Packer-Viking football game.

Among the highlights of the show are:

Miss Chrys, who does a juggling and hoop spinning act while hanging from her hair at the top of the Arena;

Charly Baumann, a wild animal trainer from Germany, who sends eight Russian Siberian and Royal tigers through exciting paces;

The Great Doval, who walks a high wire at a 45 degree angle.

The Sloan Silt Walkers, who operate on stilts up to 12 feet high;

Clowns, more than two dozen in number;

Kubler's chimpanzees, who ride bikes, play in the band and generally cause a minor riot;

Yong Brothers, a team of Chinese balance artists;

La Toria, who swings herself in gigantic cartwheels while hanging from one arm;

Hugo Schmitt's elephants, who do tricks and work with camels, zebras and other animals;

High Flyers

The Flying Waynes and Flying Gibsons, a couple of flying trapeze acts;

The Hannefords, who present a pyramid of five people on four horses going in a circle;

Senior Antonio, who does headstands on the swinging trapeze;

The Georgians, a perch act in which two women revolve in opposite directions 22 feet in the air while a man holds them on a long pole from the ground;

Victor Julian and his Dancing Poodles.

Philharmonic Concerts on WAPL Radio

The New York Philharmonic Sunday afternoon concerts will return to WAPL Radio, 1570 kc, it was announced today by John J. Dixon, station owner and manager. The concerts begin a 32-week season Sunday, heard direct from Philharmonic Hall in Lincoln Center, New York City.

A special network links radio stations across the country for the New York Philharmonic weekly broadcasts. WAPL carries the programs exclusively in Wisconsin. Concert time Sunday is 1 p.m.

Guest conductor for the early concerts will be succeeded on the podium Nov. 15 for six weeks by William Steinberg, music director of the Pittsburgh Symphony.

Later conductors will be symphonies. Music lovers also Lorin Maazel and Thomas Schippers, internationally known in symphony and opera.

Among the season's soloists Sunday, Dec. 13.

Just How Good a Sport Must He Be?

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Attorney J. Bruce Burns has tried to be a good sport about losing his contest for a Superior Court judgeship here.

He appeared before his opponent, Judge Robert A. Jacques, on Wednesday and things were going fine until he began to cross examine another attorney's client.

When the client continued to address Burns as "Your Honor," his lawyer cried out:

"No, no. It's the winner you address as 'Your Honor.' You can call the loser anything else."

will be Robert Casadesu, pianist; Roberta Peters, soprano; and Lorne Munroe, cellist.

A highlight of the season will be the Anton Bruckner Festival, which will include performance of five of the Viennese master's symphonies. Music lovers also will be looking forward to a concert version of Richard Strauss' opera "Elektra" scheduled for

Menke Homer Earns 6-5 Win For Milwaukee

Braves' Infielder Connects in 12th; Carroll Gets Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves have assured themselves of at least the smallest share of the World Series monies.

The Braves clinched no less than a fifth-place finish by beating the New York Mets 6-5 in 12 innings Wednesday night on Denis Menke's 20th home run. Lee Maye also homered for Milwaukee.

It was the sixth victory in a row for the Braves who thus equalled their longest winning string of the season. They have won 16 of their last 21 games. The fifth-place Braves are seven games off the pace and have a five-game lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are sixth. The Braves had five games left, including this afternoon's season's season finale with the Mets.

The NL Record Menke's home run leading off the 12th inning enabled the Braves to tie a National League record of five players with 20 or more homers. Hank Aaron leads the Braves with 24. Eddie Mathews has 23. Rico Carty 21 and Joe Torre 20. Aaron, Carty, Torre and Maye are all hitting over .300 and hold places among the National League's top hitters.

The Braves squandered a 4-0 lead and used six pitchers in the battle with the last-place Mets. Taking a turn were starter Hank Fischer, Bob Sadowski, Dan Schneider, Chi Chi Olin, Warren Spahn and the eventual winner, Clay Carroll, who is now 2 and 0.

The Mets' Willard Hunter took his third defeat in six decisions. He was New York's fourth pitcher, entering the game only long enough to throw the home run ball to Menke.

Menke scored the Braves' first run in the second, crossing

Markham Killed on Plane En Route To Tokyo

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Olympic team lost one of its top horses Wednesday when Markham, a veteran performer on the three-day team, was destroyed on an airplane en route to Tokyo.

The 11-year-old brown gelding was loaded aboard a chartered plane along with 10 other horses at Newark Airport. He became unmanageable about an hour after the noon takeoff.

With the plane at 12,000 feet, Markham went berserk and attempted to break out of his stall.

Team veterinarian Joseph O'Dea of Avon, N. Y., was forced to destroy the horse by an injection when the animal threatened the safety of the aircraft.

"We took every precaution we could with the horse," said Whitney Stone of New York, president of the equestrian team. "We knew he was a problem while being shipped, so we even had him in a stall removed from the other horses."

The dead horse was removed from the plane at Chicago. Markham ridden by Michael Plumb of Syosset, N. Y., finished 15th in the 1960 Olympics in Rome and was a member of the Pan-American gold medal winning team of 1959 and 1963. Plumb was scheduled to ride the horse at Tokyo.

Another horse, en route from Chile to the Tokyo Olympics, died in flight between Wake Island and Japan.

Hank Bauer Gets 2-Year Oriole Pact

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Hank Bauer, who has kept the Baltimore Orioles in contention for the American League pennant down to the final week of the season, was rewarded today with a two-year contract.

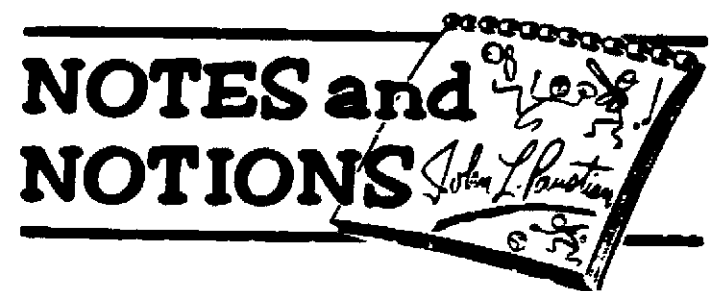

"I think Hank has done an outstanding job this year, and he has been given a substantial increase," said Oriole President Lee MacPhail in announcing the rehiring of an old friend. MacPhail didn't reveal Bauer's salary, but the one-time New York Yankee outfielder is believed to have signed for about $35,000. In his debut as Oriole skipper this season, Bauer was paid a bit under the $30,000 level.

Although one more Baltimore loss or one more New York victory will eliminate the Orioles from the pennant race, the more seasons of sniping at the club has a chance to post its best finish since rejoining the major leagues in 1954.

Lopez Signs 2-Year Pact With Chisox

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, still holding a ghost of an American League pennant victory will eliminate the Ori-oles from the pennant race, the more seasons of sniping at the club has a chance to post its best finish since rejoining the major leagues in 1954.

day for his ninth and 10th White Sox managerial seasons extend- ing through 1966. The genial 56-year-old Lopez, hinting money was no object, had his salary upped to an es- timated $50,800 annually. He reportedly got $40,000 per year for 1963 and the current season, in which only an appar- ent miracle can enable the Sox to wrest the pennant from the Yankees. General Manager Ed Short said at signing ceremony Lopez seen an attempt made. "The guys on the bench were

GREEN BAY (AP)—Minn- esota's tricky and improved Vi- kings are Sunday's foe for the Green Bay Packers, and the visitors still are determined to prove they have matured enough to merit concern in the National Football League.

The Vikings made their league debut in 1961 and in their first three seasons were vic- tims of the bugs in a new model.

As the 1964 campaign ap- proached, Coach Norm Van Brocklin said, "There is no comparison with this team and the ones in our first years in the league. I don't care what kind of football they are play- ing on the other side, if we play our best game and get some breaks, we can win."

The Vikings started the sea- son by dumping the Baltimore Colts but on following Sundays lost to Chicago and Los An- geles. In contrast, the Packers have won two of their three starts.

The key to the Viking attack is still their scrambling man- quarterback Fran Tarkenton. His efforts have been reinforced by the running of Tommy Ma- son and Bill Brown.

With Brown and Mason re- stricted by injuries last Sunday, the Vikings turned to an inno- vation—playing the first quarter without a huddle.

Explaining the strategy, Van Brocklin said, "We just wanted to keep our offense moving fast."

And move it has—leading the

'We Just Plain Blew It,' Sisler Keeps Repeating

CINCINNATI (AP) — A sui- cide squeeze bunt knocked Cin- cinnati out of a tie for first place in the National League Wednesday night and gave the Reds a case of the St. Louis Blues.

"We just plain blew it," Act- ing Manager Dick Sisler kept repeating after the Pittsburgh Pirates squeezed across a run in the top of the 16th inning for a 1-0 victory that dumped the Reds said.

"We blew it, we're offering no excuses, absolutely none at all," said Sisler. "We have no ex- cuses. We should have walked out of there at the end of nine innings with a 1-0 victory."

"We could have won in nine innings so simply. All we need- ed was someone to make con- tact with the ball. But we just couldn't do it," Sisler added.

Sisler said third baseman Chico Ruiz backed up on rookie Jerry May's bunt single that an allowed Donn Clendenon, who had led off with a double and May, playing only his sixth game for the Pirates, easily scampers to first with his third hit of the evening.

"We got to be alive," Sisler said. "Ruiz backed up on the bunt. Clendenon was running and he (Ruiz) should have fol- lowed him in."

"It was a good bunt. Maybe he would have made it any- way. But I would have liked to have seen an attempt made."

Jerry May's Squeeze Bunt Gives Pirates 1-0 Victory; Simmons Deals Phils 10th Loss in Row

BY MIKE RATHET "I'd rather play anytime than watch or listen," said Ken Boy- er of the St. Louis Cardinals. "I'm more nervous now than I was on the field."

Boyer and the rest of the Car- dinals had just trooped into the dressing room after their eighth consecutive victory, an 8-5 deci- sion over the Philadelphia Phil- lies that gave the Redbirds a one-game National League lead over Cincinnati by the end of a long, long night.

Now the Cardinals huddled around a radio, their bodies hunched forward anxiously as they listened to the Cincinnati- Pittsburgh game. After the Reds and Pirates battled through 12 scoreless innings, Boyer called it quits, finished dressing and left. But other remained.

"I'm in no hurry to leave," said Dick Groat, still sitting in his sweating uniform. It was a good thing.

Drops Squeeze Bunt — Not until the 16th inning — 4 hours, 14 minutes and 18 men left on base later — did the Reds finally lose as Jerry May dropped a successful squeeze bunt down the third base line that gave the Pirates a 1-0 victory.

The Cardinals now held a one- game lead over the Reds with only three remaining. And even cautious Johnny Keane, the St. Louis manager, had to admit:

"I like our position." The three games the Car- dinals have left are all against the New York Mets. The Reds meet Pittsburgh once more, then wind up with two games against the Phillies, who lost their 10th straight and fell 2 1/2 back and almost out of contention.

Curt Simmons put the virtual finishing touches on the Phillies chances, winning the key game against his former teammates with ninth inning relief help. Simmons, 16-2 against Philadel- phia since he was released by

St. Louis Can Win Pennant Without Outside Help

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The swashbuckling St. Louis Cardi- nals, for the first time this sea- son, were in position today to wrap up the National League pennant without any outside help.

A near-knockout 8-5 thrashing of the defenseless Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night, fol- lowed by a thrill-packed 1-0 Pittsburgh victory over Cincin- nati in 16 nerve-racked in- nings, enabled the rough-riding Redbirds to perch atop the standings all by themselves — a feat that has eluded the out- wide and Tom Hall and Rei- chow playing closer in to the line. Bill McWaters was the fullback standing a few yards behind QB Tarkenton.

Appleton High School and Green Bay East, a pair of Fox River Valley Conference football teams which were picked to be strong clubs this season and which have found some rough going to date, will square off at Green Bay's East Stadium at 8 p.m. Friday.

The Terrors have dropped three straight and have been having trouble putting some spark into the offense. East has won one game while losing a pair, and the Red Devils also have been having their trouble offensively.

Feature game on the split weekend slate will have a pair of unbeaten, Sheboygan North and South, meeting head-on at the South field Saturday. Another Saturday game will have Green Bay Southwest at Oshkosh. Friday, Manitowoc will be at Fond du Lac.

Same on Paper On paper, the Terrors and East are much the same. East is sixth in the league on offense and AHS is seventh. The Terrors rank sixth defensively while East is seventh. The Red Devils have scored 27 points in three games while Appleton has counted 26. East has allowed oppo- nents a total of 51 markers while AHS has given up 55 points.

Yanks Sweep Pair From Detroit, Cut Magic Nmb to 2

Bunker Gains 19th Victory as Baltimore Splits With Senators

BY HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The corkscrews are out and the champagne's on ice today could be the day for Phil Linz to toot his harmonica again and this time he can play Yankee Doodle Dandy.

The New York Yankees are on the threshold of their 29th American League pennant today after a two-night double-header sweep against Detroit cut the magic number over the idle Chicago White Sox to two. The scores were 7-4 and 11-8. Another sweep against the Tigers today would end it.

Linz, who was fined $200 for tooting his harmonica during a Yankee slump in August, has promised not to play again until the clinching party. The firing was the low point of the Yankee season and the club seemed to yell immediately after it happened.

The double sweep against the Tigers climaxed a 22-6 September for the Bombers during which they left the White Sox and Baltimore Orioles behind and broke open what had been a tight pennant scramble.

Eight Saves
Pete Ramos, who has been Manager Yogi Berra's bullpen stopper since coming to the Yankees from Cleveland Sept. 5, came on to finish the Tigers off in both ends of Wednesday's twinbill. Ramos has eight saves and once victory as a Yankee.

Roger Maris and Elston Howard each had three hits and three runs batted in in the nightcap after homers by Mickey Mantle (No. 35) and Joe Pepitone (No. 28) had helped win the opener. Tom Tresh had a two-run homer in the second game.

Baltimore's dwindling hopes got another jolt when the Washington Senators whipped the Orioles 6-3 in the second game of a two-nighter. The Orioles won the opener 8-4 for rookie Wally Bunker's 19th victory.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland swept Boston 5-0 and 3-0 and Minnesota whipped Kansas City 6-1.

The Yankees, who have won 13 of their last 14, are 28-10 since the Linz incident.

The clinching, whether it comes today or later in the week, will mark the Yankees' 14th pennant in 16 years and the first under Berra.

The manager has set up his pitching rotation to have ace left-hander Whitey Ford hurl Friday. That would give him a full four days rest for the World Series opener scheduled for next Wednesday.

Got A Chance

When reporters asked if his pitching schedule meant that Berra felt the Yankees were in, he said "We got a chance."

Baltimore has a much slimmer chance after splitting with Washington. The Orioles would

Cardinals Take Roblee Booms 11 Lead as Reds Lose in 16th

the club in 1960, left the Phillies in a position where the best they can do is tie for the top spot.

"This is the biggest victory for me — from the Cardinals standpoint," said Simmons, who was a member of the pennant-winning Phillies in 1950 but missed the World Series because he had to enter military service.

Purdin Stops Cubs

While the leaders were battling, San Francisco retained its mathematical chance at the title by edging Houston 2-1 in 11 innings. Milwaukee nipped the New York Mets 6-5 in 12 innings and John Purdin of the Los Angeles Dodgers stopped the Chicago Cubs 2-0 on two hits in his first major league start.

Simmons, bringing his record to 18-9, did not allow a hit until Richie Allen singled with two out in the seventh inning. By that time, the Cardinals had built an 8-0 lead, mostly against Jim "Perfect Game" Bunning.

Alex Johnson followed Allen's hit with a homer, the Phillies scored again in the eighth and finally chased Simmons in the ninth when Ron Taylor and Gordon Richardson put down the final Philadelphia rally.

Boyer, Groat and Curt Flood each collected three hits in the Cardinals' 14-hit attack while Tim McCarver hit a homer and joined with Bill White to share four runs batted in. McCarver homered following Groat's single in the second inning and the Cardinals never trailed.

At Cincinnati, the Pirates finally broke through in the marathon game after the Reds had stranded 18 base runners and failed to score for the 32nd straight inning.

Donn Clendenen got the Pirates started in the 16th with a double, the first extra base hit of the game and only the fourth hit for Pittsburgh. Bill Mazeroski sacrificed Clendenen to third and he raced home with the decisive run as May beat out a bunt down the third base line.

The Pirates' Bob Veale and Cincinnati's Jim Maloney had battled through 11 scoreless innings and Veale continued his string until he was relieved by Al McBean in the 13th. Veale struck out 16 batters for a league-leading total of 245 and allowed only seven hits.

Maloney limited the Pirates to three hits and struck out 13. In all 19 Pirates and 17 Reds struck out, setting a major league record for two teams in an extra-inning game.

The Giants scored the winning run against the Colts in the 11th when Tom Haller walked, moved to second on a single by Orlando Cepeda and came home on errors by Joe Morgan and Eddie Kasko.

Purdin allowed the Cubs only singles by Dick Bertell in the third and fifth inning. Willie Davis proved the key for the Dodgers, singling home a run in the first inning and then scoring against Larry Jackson, 23-14.

Roblee Booms 11 Strikes, 278 Line Leads Fraternal League With 649 Set; Woesland Hits 629

Wally Roblee rolled in 11 scores were Gene Randerson, straight strikes after opening 586; Don Tremel, 556 and Clarence Ehlike, 552.

Valley Glass (13-3) holds a 1-on the way to a blistering 278 game lead over AAL No. 1, His 629 Set

Bob Woesland mustered a 228 solo on route to a 629 set for the top effort in the Veterans league at the 41 Bowl. Henry Mueller and Byron St. Louis were close behind with 619 and 618, respectively.

Other honor scores were Harry Schraith, 596; Jim Braun, 225 and 584; Wayne Rehmer, 576; Harry Hitter, 575; Des Schade, 564; Jerry Trudell, 563; Wilmer Wagner, 555 and Ernie Van Bortel, 225 and 552.

Neuman Lettering and Miller Welders (9-3) are tied for the league lead.

Wayne LeFevre's 585 series set the pace in the Merchant's league at the 41 Bowl. Others posting honor scores were Earl Schmidt, 575; Jack Pankratz, 572 and Butch Schultz, 552.

Green's Pharmacy (13-3) holds a 2-point edge over Appleton's Trophy and Fox River Bus.

No honor scores were reported in the Two-Lite league at Sabre Lanes. Taff Masonry (6-0) heads team standings.

The Vikings' major problem comeback vs. the Packers. The 6-4, 235-pound receiver caught five vs. the Bears, two for touchdowns, but was shut out by the Rams.

Major Problem

Minnesota wasn't exactly blessed with good fortune in secondary. Coach Norm Van Brocklin traded Chuck Lamsot, to the Eagles one day last summer for Ted Dean and the very next day Terry Dillon, a defensive regular, drowned.

Then, during the training season, Tom Frankhauser suffered a brain hemorrhage and retired from football. And in the opener vs. the Colts, Lee Calland suffered a broken arm and will be out for 11 weeks.

Calland's replacement, Rose, got a real baptism against the Bears, with Johnny Morris catching 10 passes in his area. Billy Butler, the onetime Pac er, is the fifth man in the secondary.

ARD Adult Cage Leagues To be Formed
Adult basketball league organizational meetings have been scheduled by the Appleton Recreation Department.

The Major AAA and AA league will meet next Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the recreation office at City Hall. League play starts Nov. 5.

The Industrial League session will be at 7 p.m. Oct. 7 at the office and play opens Nov. 4. The Church League organizational meeting is set for Oct. 8 at 7 p.m. and play starts Nov. 3.

A meeting to organize a women's league will be held Oct. 19. Play is slated to start Nov. 19 and the circuit will be open to all women who live or work full-time in Appleton.

Rhyner Achieves North Shore's Sixth Ace of '64
The 1964 season has produced more holes — in — 1 at Menasha North Shore than any other in the 17-year tenure of Johnny Erickson, club pro.

The sixth, and most recent, ace of the season was achieved by Roy Rhyner. He holed out his tee shot with a 7-iron on the 138-yard seventh hole. Included in his foursome were Clarence Kramlich, Wayne Williams and Art Hedlund.

Doctors at Presbyterian-University Hospital said they found only slight damage to the cartilage and some damage to the left knee. They said the latter was corrected.

The outfielder-infielder twisted the knee May 16 in a game at Los Angeles. He saw action off and on since then.

At 3:30 p.m. Friday, Lawrence meets Grinnell on the IPC field, across from Alexander Gym. At 9:30 a.m. Saturday, the Vikes take on Carleton.

The Lawrence soccer coach is Col. Carroll M. Newstrom.

County Officials Move On 3 Fronts to Keep Braves in Milwaukee

Doyle Appeals to Fans to Help Gate Over 1,000,000

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee County officials moved on three fronts Wednesday to keep the Milwaukee Braves, reportedly ready to move to a new location for the 1965 season. Most reports said the Braves were headed for Atlanta, Ga., but club president John McHale said Tuesday night that "we have never had an offer, as such, to go anywhere." He added, however, there had been offers from six cities in the last 16 months. McHale said the Braves expected to repeat their 1963 "book loss" of $43,000. Board Chairman William Bartholomay said earlier in the week the club's future will be decided at a meeting of directors Oct. 16. In one move Wednesday, County Board Chairman Eugene Grobschmidt sought permission for county officials to plead their case during any discussion of a Braves' move by major league club owners and league presidents. On a second front, the county also solicited support from the state's 10 congressmen and two senators in a campaign to keep the Braves in Milwaukee. Appeals to Fans And County Executive John Doyle appealed to fans to join in pushing 1964 attendance over one million "to help restore the faith of the Braves' management in Milwaukee as a big league city." The Braves had an afternoon game scheduled today, a double-header Friday and single games Saturday and Sunday. Attendance for Wednesday night's 6-5 victory over the New York Mets in 12 innings was 3,722, raising the total for the year to 884,214. The count at the same point a year ago was 682,134. Letters were sent by Grobschmidt Wednesday to the owners of all major league clubs, including the Braves, and Warren Giles, National League president, and Joseph Cronin, president of the American League. With the letters was sent a copy of a stadium rental renegotiation offer that could boost Braves' 1965 income by $125,000. Saying he did not know whether the Braves intended to request a shift of their franchise, Grobschmidt said, "It is our earnest hope that an application for transfer will not be made." He said that if such a request is made, "We would naturally appreciate being apprised of such a request and we respectfully request at this time an audience to personally appear before you and the team president or their representatives so that we may fully acquaint all member teams of our endeavors to improve and strengthen the posture of the Braves in Milwaukee."

Paul Hornung Second in NFL Scoring

League with 1,090 yards, 524 of them on the ground. Green Bay is sixth on offense, but second on defense while the Vikings are second last. The Packers have gained 891 yards, passing for 405. Green Bay has surrendered 586 yards while the Vikings have been pushed around for 1,041. In individual statistics announced Wednesday night, Packers fullback Jim Taylor is the third leading ground gainer with 227 yards on 54 carries for a 4.2 yard average. Green Bay halfback Paul Hornung is 12th on the list with 36 carries for 143 yards and a four yard average.

Hornung Second Hornung is second in scoring with 33 points, three behind former Wisconsin back Jim Bakker of the St. Louis Cardinals. Hornung has scored three touchdowns, booted six extra points and kicked three field goals. Bakker has 36 points on 10 field goals and six extra points.

Quarterback Bart Starr is fourth among the passers, two places behind Tarkenton. Starr has completed 36 of 53 passes for 462 yards, a pair of touchdowns and an 8.75 yard average. Tarkenton has passed 70 times, hitting on 45 for 636 yards, seven TDs and an 8.05 average.

Green Bay's Jerry Norton is fourth among the punters, kicking 10 times for a 45.6 yard average.

Tarkenton, Targets Pose Serious Threat to Packers' Defensive Backs

'Good Rush Needed To Stop Vikings,' Says Norb Hecker

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Francis Tarkenton, a true southern gentleman from "Joe-John," is a nice young man who neither smokes nor drinks and avoids profanity like the plague. To those who toil on defense for 13 National Football League teams, however, he is a highly sinister citizen.

Obviously, this special group has to include the Packers, since they warmly welcome the nominal field general and his swash-buckling Minnesota Vikings to City Stadium Sunday for what promises to be a hectic afternoon.

Since Francis has a somewhat unorthodox approach to his position, the pervasively persistent in avoiding his pass pro-rectors, it follows that he should pose equally unusual problems for the enemy. Ready to conceding the point, Packer Bears, we saw him make some defensive backfield Coach Norb Hecker says, "he's the best running quarterback in the league of the end zone... "Norb and has a terrifically strong shock his head mentally and arm to go with it. He can throw added, "You wouldn't believe it, that thing 30 yards on the dead run."

"And once he starts running in the league," Hecker, who often has observed that "the team which leads the league in interceptions usually wins the championship," sees no reason to change his mind on this subject — or the Packers' chances of so doing. He qualifies this point, however, with the observation, "A lot depends on the rush from the line. Men, of course, to force interceptions. You don't get too many without that rush."

"Give the passer time and you're in trouble. It's impossible to cover those receivers. They have two advantages over the lone honor score in the Sportsman's League at Michiel's: going and you don't. And they're going forward and we're going backward."

Don Vogel had a 566 series for the lone honor score in the Sportsman's League at Michiel's: going and you don't. And they're going forward and we're going backward."

They're probably trimmer weight-wise than they've ever been," he explained. "Adderley is down under 200. Gremminger and Wood both are down from the last year and Jess is under 190. lower than he's ever been. May-

Loret Hits 699 Tally in Classic Loop

NEENAH — Earl Hintz Jr. slammed his second national honor count in less than a week with his 720 in the Fox Valley Classic League Wednesday night at Lakewood Lanes. Hintz, who socked a 704 in the Pen and Hammer circuit at Lakewood last Friday night, made a sweep of honors with a 268 singleton. Rodger Loret missed the charmed circle by one pin, cracking a runnerup 699, with a 257 single. Other leading efforts were Ed Schroeder 246 and 662, Jim Kluba 236 and 625, Al Kuchenbecker 617, Paul Harvath 606, Hilly Kosloski 225 and 606, Jack Favel and "Ham" Koerwiz 606, Willie Karnopp 604, Keith Gehring 600, Charles Roe 599, Dave Ray Behn 568, Bob Hanson 567, Bob Murray 569, Harold Nelson and Jim Schafer 564, Ormie Stach 561 and "Moe" Coenen 560. Lang's Pharmacy took team honors in the scratch league with 1,079 and 2,945 totals. Lang's and Northwestern share first place with 14 points. Denny Laus registered a 234 game and 624 set in the Tri-City men's league at the Sabre Lanes. Ben Lewandowski rolled 552 and Henry Horn had 538 Banta's leads with 29 Petersen points.

Gary Kohl Hits 607 Series in Greenville Loop Gary Kohl fired a 234 game and a 607 series for honors in the Greenville Men's League at the Hortonville Lanes. Ben Stolzman recorded a 226 game and 591 series to pace the Major League at the R and R Lanes, Black Creek. Other honor counts included Ed Flood, 577; Gene Fenn, 576; Milo Rettler, 564; Allen Lubinski, 557; Milton Zuleger, 552; Les Anderson, 552 and Roy Klarner, 550.

You take the low road, I'll take

by Hart Schaffner & Marx

There's no mistaking the Scottish accent on this bonnie sport coat. Loomed in the bold and brawny way you like. Rests light as a feather on your shoulders. Aye, and tailored to endure—like the very Highlands it's named for.

Notice, for example, the smooth fit of the shoulder line. Depends largely on skillful "underbasting." All parts first joined with soft white thread for exact placement... to 1 32 of an inch. Then finally sewn with hundreds of tiny stitches. Later, the soft white thread is removed. On the outside it seems like there's no seam at all.

The look you buy is the look you keep. Worn over slacks—or kilt—the Highland Tweed sport coat by Hart Schaffner & Marx is a canny buy.

Buried Under Bricks, Mortar When Wall Falls on Them

BOSTON (AP) — Five firemen were killed early today when they were buried under tons of brick and mortar from a wall that collapsed as they fought a blaze in a vacant building.

The fire in what once was a toy factory claimed the greatest number of Boston fire fighters since 1942 when six were killed. Among today's dead was Pvt. John Clougherty, 31, son of acting Fire Chief John Clougherty, who was directing 200 fire fighters at the scene and saw the men killed.

13 Are Hospitalized
"My God," he exclaimed in disbelief. "I've lost my son!" The others were Pvt. Frank Murphy, 44; Lt. John Geswell, 40; Lt. John McCorkle, 53, and Pvt. James B. Sheedy, 38.

A dozen other fire fighters and one civilian were taken to Boston City Hospital, some in serious condition.

Ailing Fire Chief William Trent, for whom the elder Clougherty was acting, appeared at the fire despite his illness. He said the behavior of the wall of the road, through rocks in the ditch, struck a utility pole and rolled over several times.

Shawano County Coroner Harvey Stubbins said Ostrowski died of a broken neck. Ostrowski is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ostrowski, who was a 1963 Menasha High School graduate.

Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Monday at Florian Catholic Church, Hatley, Schmidt Funeral Home, Wittenberg, is handling arrangements. Friends may call after noon Sunday.

He arrived on the first of five alarms. He said some hose lines were brought into the building but a withdrawn because of the rapid advance of flames.

Geswell, a fire fighter for nine years, was promoted to lieutenant less than two months ago and was a departmental Medal of Honor winner.

McCorkle had been in the department for 27 years and had returned from vacation only a few hours earlier.

Mayor John F. Collins said, "All the citizens of Boston join with me in paying tribute to the courage of these firefighters who paid with their lives in the performance of their duty."

Many of the firemen were weeping as they tunneled into the charred refuse searching for the bodies of their fellows.

"I've never heard anything like it," one said of the anguished screams of the four victims. "They never had a chance."

Fire Spreads Rapidly
The second wall partly buried a fire truck and an ambulance. It caused no serious injuries. Deputy Fire Chief John McCarty said the fire was burning on the upper floor of the four-story brick building when

3 Arrested in Mississippi Bombing Cases

Justice Department And Governor Tell Of White Suspects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three white men were arrested in Mississippi in connection with recent bombings of Negro homes near McComb, the Justice Department and Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson said today.

The arrests were made by FBI agents, members of the State Highway Patrol and Pike County Sheriff R. R. Warren.

The three were charged under Mississippi law with illegal use of explosives, a crime that carries a possible death penalty.

They were identified by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and Johnson as Ernest Frederick Zeek, 25, and Jimmy Prinston Wilson, 38, both of McComb, and Paul Dewey Wilson, 25, who moved from McComb to Jayess, Miss., Wednesday.

Saw Guns Moved
Officials said the break in the investigation came Wednesday, when federal and state agents saw Wilson moving guns and ammunition.

Paul Wilson is charged in two bombings. The first was at the home of the Rev. James Baker Sr. in Pike County on Sept. 9. The FBI said Wilson allegedly hurled three sticks of dynamite at the Baker house.

All three men are charged in the second bombing, one that killed a black man in the evening of Sept. 20 at the home of Aylene Wilson on Summit Street in McComb.

Although there were people in each house at the time of the explosions, there were no injuries. The FBI said the dynamite exploded about 20 feet away from Baker and an aunt were in the house.

Names Board of Inquiry, May Asks Court Order For Cooling-Off Period

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixty thousand longshoremen struck ports this morning — the Sylvania and from Maine to Texas today, tying up the nation's Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico shipping in what their leader described as a 100 per cent effective walkout.

As a presidential board prepared to open a fact-finding inquiry preparatory to obtaining a Taft-Hartley Act "cooling off" order, Thomas W. Gleason, president of the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, said:

"Not even a raft is floating down the river."

However, two transatlantic liners docked in New York early this morning — the Sylvania and the Leonardo da Vinci. White collar workers helped the 1,000 passengers on the two vessels unload their luggage.

Board of Inquiry
President Johnson named the three-man board of inquiry late Wednesday, but too late to head off the midnight strike. The board acted quickly today to report to the President before midnight.

A return to work under a federal court injunction was expected by Monday or earlier.

Shipping circles estimated a loss of more than $20 million in the nation's economy for each day the docks are idle.

Threatened loss of jobs through automation of cargo handling was a major factor in the "no contract, no work" walkout by the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association which began a minute after midnight.

Ahead of Deadline
Some longshoremen jumped the gun in New York and began quitting work on the luxury liners as early as 5 p.m. Wednesday. Clerical employees were put to work handling passengers' luggage and three big ships — the British Queen Mary, the American Independence and the German Bremen — sailed during the night.

For the past few days shipping companies — especially in Turn to Page 10, Col. 4

Greek Cypriots Hail Military Aid Pact With Russia

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Several thousand cheering Greek Cypriots welcomed home today a ministerial delegation that negotiated a Soviet military aid agreement in Moscow.

"Down with NATO!" the crowd chanted. "Long live Soviet aid."

The Greek Cypriots said they needed stronger defenses to prevent intervention by Turkey in their nine-month-old feud with the island's Turkish Cypriot minority.

Both Turkey and Greece, which sympathizes with the Greek Cypriot cause through disapproving of the mission to Moscow, are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou told newsmen he is completely satisfied with the agreement, but refused to disclose the nature of the weapons expected or when they would be delivered.

Laotian Envoy to Leave N. Viet Nam

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotian government is withdrawing its ambassador from North Viet Nam but says the move is not a diplomatic break with the Communist regime.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, the nationalist premier, told the National Assembly Wednesday that he would ask Ambassador Thao Peng, to return from Hanoi. Thao Peng is a member of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. Souvanna said if he refused to return, he would be dismissed.

Souvanna's neutralist-right-wing coalition government has charged that North Vietnamese troops are fighting in Laos alongside the Pathet Lao. North Viet Nam has denied this.

UAW Tries to Speed Agreement on Local Issues at GM Plants

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union spurred efforts today to settle local demands at strikebound General Motors plants across the nation and reach agreement on a new labor contract.

These negotiators, Reuther said, would do what they could to help settle more than 17,000 local at-plant demands which he described as the key to ending the nationwide walkout.

Other members of the national negotiating team were remaining in Detroit to continue discussions with the company on over-all problems, Reuther said.

Hurricane Hilda Youth Killed, Two Gaining Power Hurt in Car Crash

Coastal Residents Along Gulf Moving To Higher Ground

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hilda became a severe hurricane — packing winds of 125 miles an hour — as she plowed through the Gulf of Mexico today.

All along low-lying coastal areas, residents went inland to the safety of higher ground.

The Weather Bureau, in its 10 a.m. EST. advisory, upgraded Hilda to "severe status."

There was still no indication when or where Hilda would push her howling winds inland, but Louisiana or possibly Texas appeared the prime targets.

Changed Course Predicted

At 10 a.m., Hilda's eye—the deadly calm center of low pressure from which furious winds are spawned — was 350 miles south of New Orleans, or about 500 miles from the nearest land mass.

The Weather Bureau said portions of low-lying coastal roads in Louisiana would probably be flooded tonight.

If Hilda doesn't veer to the north—as predicted — her present course would take her to the densely-populated Texas coast.

A turn to the north would send the hurricane toward the marshy Louisiana coast.

The threat of Hilda caused the Atomic Energy Commission to postpone for the fifth time its scheduled underground nuclear detonation in the Tatum salt domes near Hattiesburg, Miss.

The New Orleans Coast Guard said it had radio reports from the motorship Cornelia B III that it was being buffeted by winds and high waves north of Hilda's eye.

No Agreement on Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference on health care for the aged broke up today in deadlock.

The conference committee adjourned "subject to call" after the Senate members voted to stand firm on their chamber's inclusion of the administration-backed health care plan in a Social Security bill and the House members voted an equally uncompromising rejection.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the conference and of the House Ways and Means Committee, told newsmen of the outcome. He said no alternative proposals were discussed and he could not predict when the conference might reconvene.

If the conferees do not agree on a compromise Social Security bill, and the two chambers do not ratify their decision, before Congress adjourns, increased retirement benefits as well as the health care plan will not become law.

Stanley Ostrowski, 18, Menasha, Dies in Accident Near Tigerton

TIGERTON — Stanley P. Ostrowski, 18, 735 DePere St., Menasha, was killed shortly before 2 a.m. today when the car he was riding in on U.S. 45 failed to negotiate a curve and crashed about 2½ miles north of here.

The death raised the state traffic toll for 1964 to 800. The count on this date a year ago was 648.

Two other occupants of the car, Shirden Waitrowski, 31, 1921 Henry St., Neenah, and Roger Krueger, 18, 317 Grandview Ave., Menasha, are in critical condition at Tigerton Hospital. Waitrowski has internal injuries and Krueger has lacerations and head injuries. Neither man has regained consciousness.

Shawano County police have been unable to determine who was driving the auto. Patrolman may call after noon Sunday.

Traveling North
Dahl said the car was traveling north on U.S. 45 when it failed to negotiate the curve. The car went off the right side of the road, through rocks in the ditch, struck a utility pole and rolled over several times.

Shawano County Coroner Harvey Stubbins said Ostrowski died of a broken neck. Ostrowski is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ostrowski, who was a 1963 Menasha High School graduate.

Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Monday at Florian Catholic Church, Hatley, Schmidt Funeral Home, Wittenberg, is handling arrangements. Friends may call after noon Sunday.

Cheers for Goldwater
The boing at the Long Island rally began when Leonard Hall, former GOP national chairman, urged the crowd to give Goldwater "a real working arm in the U.S. Senate in Ken Keating."

Nixon Backs Both
Hall made the plea in introducing Nixon at the meeting sponsored by the Nassau County Republican Committee. Hall is an adviser in the Goldwater campaign.

Keating, who is backed by the Republican state organization, has been endorsed by Goldwater.

Nixon, who is backing Goldwater, as well as Keating, ignored the reaction to the mention of Keating's name except for a moment when he told the crowd: "Don't boo me. I've been booed by experts."

There were a lot of signs boosting Goldwater and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of upstate New York. There were only a few signs boosting Keating, who is running against former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Nixon's appearance was the start of a month-long, 36-state tour campaigning for Goldwater and other Republican candidates. He plans more than 150 speeches.

Nixon told the rally that an election victory for Kennedy—who has rented a Long Island home after living in Virginia and voting in his native Massachusetts for years—would open the doors of the Senate to anyone who "just wants a job."

Nixon said President Johnson

Nixon Boomed in Urging Votes for Keating at New York GOP Rally

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — is "a liberal one day, a conservative the next." He charged that the President "has given the green light to influence peddling in Washington."

He said Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Johnson's running mate, has "a 100 per cent all the way."

Says War Peril Grows
Nixon said the United States is losing the war in South Viet Nam and defeat there means election."

He said the danger of war and defeat has increased in the last four years in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Asked at the news conference about Goldwater's statement that he might name Nixon secretary of state, Nixon said:

"I've always felt it is no advantage to discuss appointments to the cabinet before an administration before an election."

Points to Report
The Warren report under-scores American political history in showing that the disaster of an assassination of a national figure not only can be, but is likely to be the work of a single warped mind."

Mansfield urged the candidates to be done to develop and prove the technique, he said in an interview. "But I think we have police officials and protectors, to keep working away at improving our treatment of persons paralyzed by spinal cord damage."

The acting chairman of the college's division of neurosurgery works mostly with cats where the spinal cord is damaged and the nerve connections are cut off between the brain and the lower part of the body.

That can happen to a person in a car or industrial accident. He is paralyzed from the shoulders down — no movement or feeling in his legs.

Work Needed on Technique 'Re-Wiring' May Give Hope to Paraplegics

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A neurosurgeon at the University of Utah College of Medicine is working on a new "re-wiring" technique that may offer hope to the paraplegic.

Dr. Theodore S. Roberts is cautious when he talks about the results.

Considerably more work must be done to develop and prove the technique, he said in an interview. "But I think we have police officials and protectors, to keep working away at im-

UAW Tries to Speed Agreement on Local Issues at GM Plants

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union spurred efforts today to settle local demands at strikebound General Motors plants across the nation and reach agreement on a new labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther disclosed to newsmen after another day at the bargaining table that 11 members of the union's national negotiating committee were going back to their home towns.

These negotiators, Reuther said, would do what they could to help settle more than 17,000 local at-plant demands which he described as the key to ending the nationwide walkout.

Other members of the national negotiating team were remaining in Detroit to continue discussions with the company on over-all problems, Reuther said.

Lawrence Says
Poll Illustrates
Effect on Voters
Of 'Backlash'

Public Concern
Shown in Survey
For Washington Post

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Efforts are being made by many Democratic leaders to play down the "civil rights" issue in the campaign and to minimize the importance of the so-called "backlash" vote. It is significant, however, that public opinion polls now are beginning to take cognizance of a growing unrest among voters on the subject of racial riots and crime.

Thus, Louis Harris, a veteran pollster, gives in "The Washington Post" the results of his latest survey across the nation. Anxiety among white Americans over the race issue is rising in intensity. Coupled with this concern is an increase in worry about safety on the streets, which many people now relate to Negro outbreaks in northern cities this past summer.

"Together, these are now twin-sleeper issues entirely capable of altering the remarkable 63-37 per cent standing of President Johnson in his race against Sen. Barry Goldwater."

Sections Polled
The citizens were polled in various sections of the country on "the extent to which people feel the pace of civil rights progress is too fast, their opposition to the civil rights bill, and their worry about violence on the streets." Those who expressed concern on all three counts were placed in a "high

East Germans Seek Long-Term Credits
From Bonn Regime

BONN, Germany (AP) — Communist East Germany wants a long-term credit of several hundred million marks from West Germany, an Economic Ministry spokesman said Tuesday.

Other Bonn officials said the East German regime threatened reprisals against the big trade between West Germany and West Berlin if its demands are not met.

The spokesman would not specify the amount sought but said the Communists want it to run for 8 to 10 years. The business newspaper Handelsblatt put the figure at 500 million marks, about $125 million.

Trade between the two parts of divided Germany amounts to $500 million a year and has been increasing.

The United States and some other members of the North Atlantic alliance oppose credits of more than five years to Communist nations.

'backlash' category. Harris says:

"A sure sign of the increased intensity of feelings on racial issues is the fact that the number of people in the high category alone has doubled in a month's time. Part of this is a reflection of the growing number of people who think that the pace of civil rights is too fast."

The "high backlash" category shows an increase of several percentage points since August. Thus, while only 7 per cent were in that category last month, there were 15 per cent in that same classification this month.

Conspicuous Trend
All this does not mean other issues may not become sufficiently persuasive to wear down some of the intensity of feeling on the one issue and cause voters to give precedence to other issues. But the trend in the reaction of the voters to racial issues has been conspicuous in other polls, too. A survey published in "The New York Times" last week showed 49 per cent of the citizens in New York City feel racial demonstrations have hurt the cause of "civil rights" and revealed a feeling among 54 per cent of the citizens that the "civil rights" movement should "slow down."

Harris, in his latest poll, however, is the first to say the "backlash" might conceivably be a "sleeper" issue in the current campaign and that it could alter the present 63-37 per cent rating which his polls give President Johnson in his race against Sen. Goldwater. This does not necessarily mean President Johnson will lose the election, but it does imply that the election may be a lot closer than has been anticipated by the public.

'Out of Hand'
Harris refers in his article to the 66 per cent of the Goldwater supporters who feel that Negroes have "gotten out of hand," and he speaks of this phrase as having been repeatedly heard in his surveys as a description of public reaction to the "civil rights" movement. He also says that "critical to this election are the 27 per cent of Johnson voters who feel the same way about Negroes," and he concludes they provide "more than enough potential defections to change the final outcome."

Harris is, of course, expressing his interpretation of polls taken during September, and there is no way of telling at this date what the reaction may be in November, particularly since President Johnson is likely to take into account the trends of opinion on the "civil rights" issue and do his utmost to win some of the votes which may not now be on his side.

Wide Concern
The growth of crime, of course, has been a matter of widespread concern, entirely apart from the racial demonstrations and riots. The poll by Louis Harris also takes note of the rise in the fears of the public concerning crime. A question was asked as to whether, compared to a year ago, the citizen feels "more worried, less worried or not much different?" about his or her personal safety on the streets. The poll taken in August showed 53 per cent as "more worried." This figure had risen in September to 61 per cent.

While the same poll shows most Americans support the "civil rights bill by two to one and that President Johnson is not blamed for the current situation, political history shows that, where there is discontent, it usually is taken out on the national administration in the subsequent election. This is one reason the extent of the protest vote is today the unknown factor that confronts not only pollsters but all those who attempt the role of prophet with respect to the outcome of the current election. And certainly what appears to be the situation in September is not always borne out by the state of the public mind in the last week of October and the first few days of November in a presidential election year.

Kaukauna Board Limits
School Architect Choice

Decides Fox Valley Firm Will be Better Able To Handle Emergencies in Building Program

KAUKAUNA — Members of the board of education voted in a formal Tuesday evening session to assure completion for the limit choice of architects for a 1966-67 school year and architect-proposed elementary school projects would be asked to insure building to those residing in the Fox River Valley.

The decision was taken when board members decided an architect from outside this area would be too difficult to contact in emergencies and would possibly result in less check on progress than could be given by an architect residing or having an office in the vicinity.

Twelve firms already have been contacted by the board, indicating interest in designing the building. Bichler will screen applicants and present a list of area architects to the board of education for final study and recommendation.

Council Action Needed
No action can be taken until approval to hire an architect is received from the city council. The council is currently negotiating for the purchase of over 30 acres of land from Michael Klein and Henry Welhouse as a site for the new elementary school. The school is to be located at the southeastern part of the city.

Bichler informed board members that the school would be penalized, particularly students, by not being provided access to the many reference materials placed in the city library for high school students.

Library Support
Members went on record favoring continued support of municipal libraries by the county.

Young Hobby Club
'What's-the-Action' Game
Fun for Small Player Group

BY CAPPY DICK
A pad of paper, a pencil and an interesting picture clipped from the newspaper are the only materials needed for today's action.

The picture must be placed on a piece of paper. One of the players draws a rough sketch in the blank space to show what he believes the actual picture depicts.

The picture is placed on a fresh piece of paper and another player makes a rough sketch in the blank space. This continues until everyone has made a sketch. At that point, the actual piece which was cut from the picture (Figure 2) is fitted into the hole so all the players can see what the action actually was.

Comparison of the pencil sketches with the actual picture will be entertaining. Before your friends arrive, clip the picture from the paper.

Soviets Ease Watch
On NATO War Games

LONDON (AP) — An Atlantic alliance force steaming toward the Bay of Biscay for the final phase of NATO war games says Soviet ships have relaxed their watch on the naval exercise.

"To our knowledge only one Russian trawler and one submarine are still shadowing the force," U.S. Navy Capt. Frederick C. Turner, operations officer of the Blue Strike fleet, told newsmen Tuesday night.

The task force — 55 ships, 20 planes and 21,000 men — has been carrying out simulated attacks with both conventional and nuclear weapons against targets in Norway, Denmark and Britain.

Tentative plans were made for a School Board Association district meeting to be held in the city Oct. 8. The affair will open with a 7 p.m. dinner in the cafeteria followed by general discussion sessions for school board members and administrators and school custodians.

$275,000 Price Suggested For Waupaca County Jail

Law Enforcement Committee Asking Supervisors to Okay Proposal in November

WAUPACA — A recommendation calling for construction of a new county jail at a cost not to exceed $275,000 was unanimously approved at a joint meeting of the law enforcement and public property committees Wednesday night.

The recommendation now will go to the county board for action at the November session.

A recent meeting of the law enforcement committee recommended a price of $250,000. The jail will be built jointly with the city figure was increased Wednesday.

The committee suggested action be taken as soon as possible because the state had indicated the present jail is inadequate, and if the county does not show progress on the construction of a new jail, the old one may be condemned.

No federal funds available for the construction of a jail because Waupaca County does not qualify as a disaster area. An earlier suggestion to provide space for civil defense also was ruled out because of specification requirements.

The Oconto County jail was found to be the type of jail that would serve Waupaca County. The Oconto County jail was constructed in 1961 at a cost of $270,000. It has 26 cells, two cells for Huber Law prisoners.

Clintonville — Deer hunting policy at Clintonville Senior High School has been announced by the Clintonville Board of Education.

The policy calls for absences for illness during the deer-hunt season to be attested by a physician. Absences for work should be arranged for in advance and be requested in writing by both parents.

Students missing school time for hunting purposes will be required to make up the school work missed and double the amount of the time missed in detention after school.

If students arrange for absence, he will be required to make up only the school work and the actual amount of school time missed, not the double amount missed in detention after school.

Fellowship Officers DALE — Newly elected officers of the Senior Youth Fellowship of Zion United Church of Christ are David Nelson, president; Bonnie Benton, vice president; Luella Sommers, secretary; and Barbara Klitzke, treasurer.

Waupaca Incident

Sharp Objects on Roads Damage Auto, Cause Stock Truck to Tip

WAUPACA — Incidents here curred Tuesday when a truck and at Richland Center have operated by Pete Neimuth. Man continued to bother rural residents leaving a steak house near Marion and another three flat tires later when the truck ran over some of the objects at the Neimuth farm driveway north of Manawa.

In Richland County, between Gotham and Lone Rock, 20 calves and two hogs were killed Wednesday when a semi-trailer truck ran over a sickle blade on State 14 and went into a ditch. The driver was not hurt.

Five tires on the vehicle were damaged. The load was part of some 165 hogs and cattle being trucked from Equity Cooperative Livestock Exchange at Altoona to Chicago.

At Equity barns in Bonduel, where two NFO demonstrators were refused entry to the chute area.

Mrs. Hugo Graper, rural Clintonville, reported a tire on her car was punctured when she drove from her driveway a Wednesday morning. Mrs. Graper, who was taking her children to school, told Sheriff Loran Frazier she found four pronged objects about two feet apart across the driveway. The objects were of the same type which punctured six tires on a rural parents to have their children picked up by the school buses at their door. School policy will remain the same. The children of 21 families still must walk less than one-quarter of a mile to meet the school bus.

Board members intend to present this policy at the annual meeting next July.

Poppy Sale At New London Is Successful NEW LONDON — The VFW Buddy Poppy Sale last week was a success, said Mrs. Donald Dent and Mrs. Irene Eggert, co-chairmen of the drive.

Other sellers were Mrs. Clyde Eckhart, Mrs. Martin Abraham, Mrs. Lillian Springmire, Mrs. Melvin Seefeldt, Mrs. Reuben Voss, Mrs. Grace Breyer, Mrs. Mabel Matheson, Mrs. Lawrence Herres and Mrs. LeRoy Rodgers.

Mrs. Nettie Mundt, Mrs. Carolyn Sinder, Mrs. Art Lasch, Mrs. Emil Rasmussen, Mrs. Elmer Hebbel, Mrs. Alex Pelkey, Mona Huebner, Sandy Dent, Laura Geigler, Kay Herminath, Susan Elliott, Chuck Elliott and Jane Clark also sold poppies.

Hitting Girl Costs Waupaca Youth $50 WAUPACA — John D. Andrews, 20, 504 Elm St., was fined $50 and costs Wednesday when he appeared in Municipal Justice Court and pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct.

Andrews was charged with striking an 18-year-old Waupaca girl during a fight in a parking lot at the Eagle's Club. Police arrested Andrews after the girl signed a complaint.

Portage County Down Portage County had totals of 24,018 pounds and 1,201 persons in September, compared with 24,027 pounds and 1,258 people in August. Shawano had a drop of 49 people from 1,440 to 1,391, but a raise of 1,558 pounds to 27,416.

Waushara county residents received 8,142 pounds of food to 424 people, nearly the same as last month. Fond du Lac had 25,751 pounds of food for 1,360 people, a drop of 25 persons.

Winnebago County replaced Outagamie as the top recipient of food products with 36,331 pounds going to 1,970 families.

Pleads Innocent by Reason of Insanity In Navarino Slaying

SHAWANO — Leland, Cletus DeKeyser, 30, was ordered to Central State Hospital, Waupun, Wednesday afternoon by Judge Kenneth Traeger, after he was bound over to branch 2 of Shawano - Menominee County Court on a charge of feloniously causing the death of Mrs. Violet Fialinski, Navarino, on Sept. 21.

The body of the 60-year-old, 299-pound Mrs. Fialinski, throat slashed, was found in a ditch near her rural home by a school bus driver and DeKeyser, picked up by authorities the same day, signed a statement admitting the slaying.

He appeared before Judge Traeger on Sept. 23 and Orville Luckenbach was appointed defense attorney when DeKeyser said he had no funds.

Pleads Insanity Luckenbach Wednesday entered a plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity for DeKeyser and asked that he be sent to Central State for examination. After a summary investigation and conference with Luckenbach and Dist. Atty. M. J. Euerlein, Judge Traeger ordered DeKeyser sent for a minimum 30-day examination. Preliminary hearing was waived by Luckenbach in order to expedite the commitment order.

Clad in soft-soled moccasins, a cotton plaid shirt and faded blue jeans, DeKeyser was taken back to jail following his court appearance when unable to raise the $15,000 bond. He will be transported to Waupun on Thursday, Sheriff Carl Krueger said, upon being advised by Judge Traeger that orders would be ready Thursday morning.

Luckenbach indicated that whatever defense he plans may involve challenge of statements signed by DeKeyser after he was interrogated in Green Bay by authorities.

He told Judge Traeger he was objecting to the "confession at this time" but Judge Traeger advised him the time to object would be at the introduction of groups and individuals working on documents at the trial. Luckenbach explained he did not want to be charged with any laxity in defending this young man's rights.

Walk Into Autumn

Charlie Finds Road Lonely, Even Animals Ignore Him

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

FREMONT — I walked a lonely road today over the flatlands of these parts of Winnebago and Waupaca counties and though I trudged a total of 37 miles and feel in fine fettle. I had my moments of humiliation.

For the larger miles of today's hike from Oshkosh to this Wolf River fishing resort community I had little company. I turned in boredom to the creatures along the way.

I "sooeyed" at pigs. I called "come, boss" to the cattle. I whinnied at horses and I barked at dogs. But my city-style beckoning was an abject failure. The animals came not at all and awarded me only with looks of astonishment. Very humiliating.

House I marched out of Oshkosh in the blue of early morning, plodded my way through the village of Butte des Morts and saw almost nobody excepting an unusually handsome Dalmatian dog in the yard of Charles H. Abel.

Butte des Morts translates to the Algonquian Indian language as "mas-pa-qua-te-no" into English as "hill of the dead" though the marker for that famed historic hill which was the scene of a great Indian battle is not here at all.

I saw a pair of unusually tall casio bean plants in Butte des Morts and I wondered if the owner knows that his plants are as poisonous as they are beautiful.

The restaurants were closed and the community center pump wasn't functioning so I moved on, thirsty and lonely, toward Zittau.

Now and then drivers would honk me a "howdy-do" and many people waved me on, but mostly I had to talk to the critters I met.

Nearing Zittau I encountered thousands of blackbirds, gathered in a noisy convention. Though they chattered loudly and incessantly, they had no work for me.

At Zittau, I chatted with Wally Dietrich, who operates a grocery store and tavern there. Well aware of this highway crossroad said that it had been homesteaded in 1856 by Benjamin Metzger, whose old country home had been—your've guessed it—Zittau, Germany.

Today, 108 years later there still lives there on the old farm a great-grandson, Carl.

Zittau's only industry is the Union Star cheese factory which has been operated by Henry Metzger since 1911. Now the reins have been taken over by Gene Lehman, Metzger's son-in-law, who hailed me into the cheese factory for a visit.

Pa Metzger, a fine old gentleman, presented me with (1) some slices of wonderful cheese, (2) a paddle pop and (3) a 50th wedding anniversary picture of himself and his wife. The last gift was to help me remember him. I really will.

Cheese Mathematics Lehman told me a formula I never knew: It requires 10 1/2 pounds of milk to make one pound of cheese. That is, about five quarts of milk are necessary to make a single pound of the American cheddar produced in the cheese factory.

The celebration is scheduled for Sunday.

Calumet Democrat Women Hear Blitz on Goldwater

CHILTON — Mrs. William Proxmire and Mrs. Patrick J. Lucey, campaigning in Chilton, Tuesday, for their husbands, said Sen. Goldwater is totally inadequate to serve the United States as president. They spoke to the Calumet County Democratic Women's Club.

The two women cited Sen. Goldwater's poor record in the senate and his opposition to every social and welfare program brought before the Congress.

Sen. Goldwater's statements before and during the present campaign are completely contradictory and irrational, they said. Mrs. Proxmire said he first advocated withdrawal from the United Nations and later decried the statement.

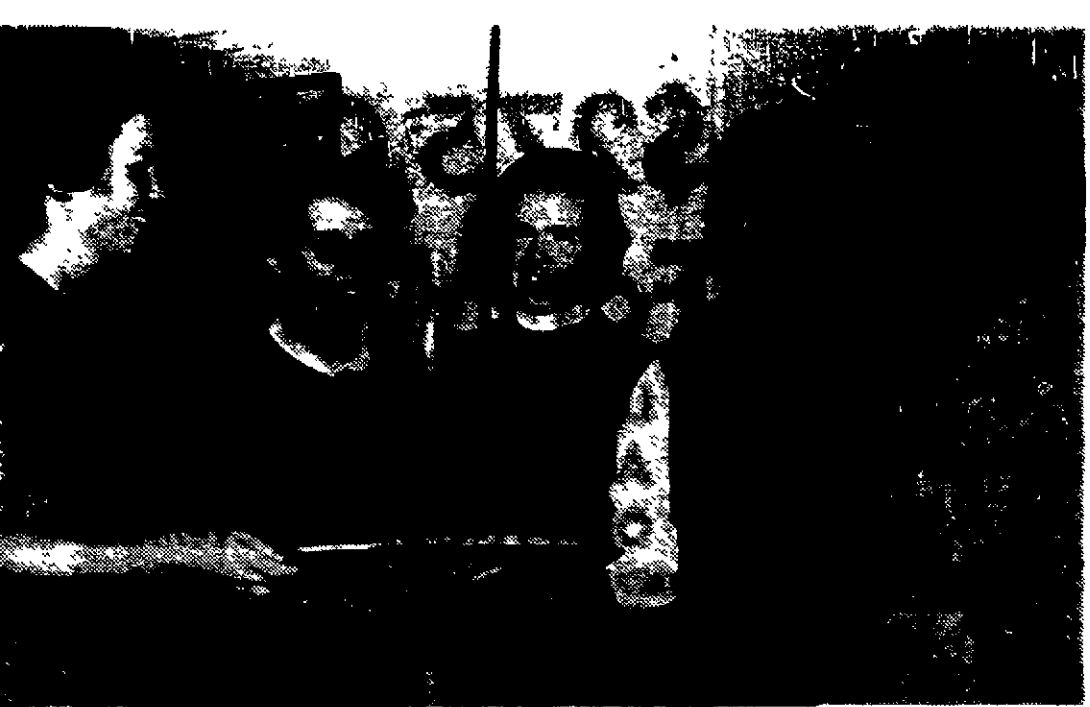

Mrs. Lucey, quoted from a Goldwater book, which said that renters

Answer Question

During the question and answer period they also took the opportunity to slam Warren Knowles, Republican candidate for governor.

Knowles, they said, until now was a firm advocate of the complete sales tax.

Tax relief for the elderly was also discussed by the women. Through the efforts of Gov. John Reynolds, a bill for tax relief was nudged through the legislature, they said, will help elderly persons on social security, in providing some tax relief to property owners and renters.

The Clintonville Branch of the American Association of University Women held its first meeting of the fall season in the undercroft of Christ Congregational Church, Clintonville. Dr. Pat Lanier, Kewaunee, state AAUW president, was the guest speaker. The officers of the Clintonville Branch visit with her. Wittenberg Invades Indian Gridiron Friday

CHILTON — Wittenberg posted a 19-6 win over Iola-Scandinavia last week and controlled the ball most of the way.

Raul Reyes is the sparkplug of the Wittenberg attack which features strong ground play.

Marion will be out to stay in title contention with a game at home against Wautoma. Manawa also has one loss and will be eyeing a first division berth in contest at I-S.

Wittenberg and Weyauwega, two of the three unbeaten teams in the Central Wisconsin Conference clash at Weyauwega Friday night in the circuit's feature game.

Wautoma will be at Marion in another Friday encounter. Saturday games will have Waupaca at Amherst and Manawa at Iola-Scandinavia.

Waupaca shares the lead with Weyauwega and Wittenberg and the comets, with their high-powered offense, will be favored to retain their unbeaten status against winless Amherst.

Weyauwega, which rolled up a 53-7 win over Wautoma last week, is hoping the offense will

Homecoming Court Named At Chilton

CHILTON — Varsity football players at the high school last week chose five senior girls to serve on the 1964 homecoming court.

The girls in turn chose five senior football players to be their escorts at the festivities Oct. 16.

The court and their escorts are LeAnna Ware and Mike Thurwachter; Shirley Miller and Allan Whitby; Helen Franke and John Schneider; Kian Keuler and Nick Schaff, and Sue Hackbarth and Mike Woelfel.

An election was held last week to choose a queen to be announced during the half-time of the homecoming football game with Oostburg.

Last year's queen, Pat Rieger, will crown her successor during the half-time ceremonies.

Pick Officers For Chilton Walther League

CHILTON — Arlis Alten was elected president of the St. Martin Lutheran Church Walther League here Monday night at the 1965 organizational meeting.

Donnie Loose was named secretary and Lee Heine and DeLores Voigt were re-elected as vice president and treasurer, respectively.

Jane Gordon, past president, was elected Christian growth chairman, and Linda Urban, past secretary, was elected social chairman.

The organizations September project is preparation of mission packs with Christian literature to be sent to missionaries to assist them in their work.

The group has a new project each month. During October the group will assemble Wheat Ridge Christmas seals for distribution. Income from the seals is used for Missouri Synod welfare work.

Jane Gordon reported on the South Wisconsin District meeting last month in Green Lake, which involved 32 congregations.

Gerald Cooper Dies From Car Crash Injuries

Fatality Is 22nd of Year in Outagamie And 797th in State

Outagamie County counted its 22nd traffic fatality and the state's 797th Tuesday with the death of Gerald J. Cooper, 24, 2726 W. Spencer St.

Cooper was seriously injured at 1:30 a.m. Friday when the car he was driving slammed into a telephone pole and tree after going off E. Wisconsin Avenue.

Police said the car was torn and twisted in half. Cooper was thrown from the car and found lying 35 feet from where the car came to rest.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard Kemps said Cooper never regained consciousness and died of severe head injuries.

Father of 3
Cooper, father of three children, was born May 6, 1940, in Rhinelander. He is survived by his wife, three children, his parents, three sisters, a brother and a grandmother.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Friday in St. Mary Catholic Church, with burial in the church cemetery. Friends may call at Ellenbecker Funeral Home.

4 Clintonville Seniors Commended for Tests

CLINTONVILLE — Four seniors at Clintonville Senior High School have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT) given last spring. Each student who is enrolled in the school receives a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Kaukauna Man Pleads Innocent to Charge

Ralph L. Gustafson, 59, 2114 Park St., Kaukauna, pleaded innocent in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He will face trial Jan. 4, 1965 and posted bond of $250.

County police arrested Gustafson on State 47 Saturday.

3 Charged for Breaking Jail

OSHKOSH — Charges of escape and of burglary were filed against three of the four persons who escaped from the Winnebago County jail Tuesday morning when they were brought again before County Judge James Sitter.

The burglary charge contends the three broke into the Metzler Sales and Service, Inc., filling station at 330 Murdock Ave., Oshkosh, early Tuesday morning after escaping from the county jail. Proceedings in the case of Rodney Klier, 18, and Ronald Klier, 19, both of 641 Franklin St., Oshkosh, were deferred and for Lester Hirte, 22, 118 W. 12th Ave., Oshkosh, was adjourned until Thursday when he is to appear for further proceedings on other charges.

Ronald Klier pleaded guilty to the escape charge while Hirte's plea to escape was deferred until Thursday and Rodney Klier's plea to the escape charge until his Oct. 6 preliminary hearing on a forgery charge.

The fourth escapee, James W. Butch, 26, 417 W. Green Bay St., Shawano, is to be returned this afternoon from Shawano and is expected to be arraigned Thursday on the escape charge.

Siren Call Weak

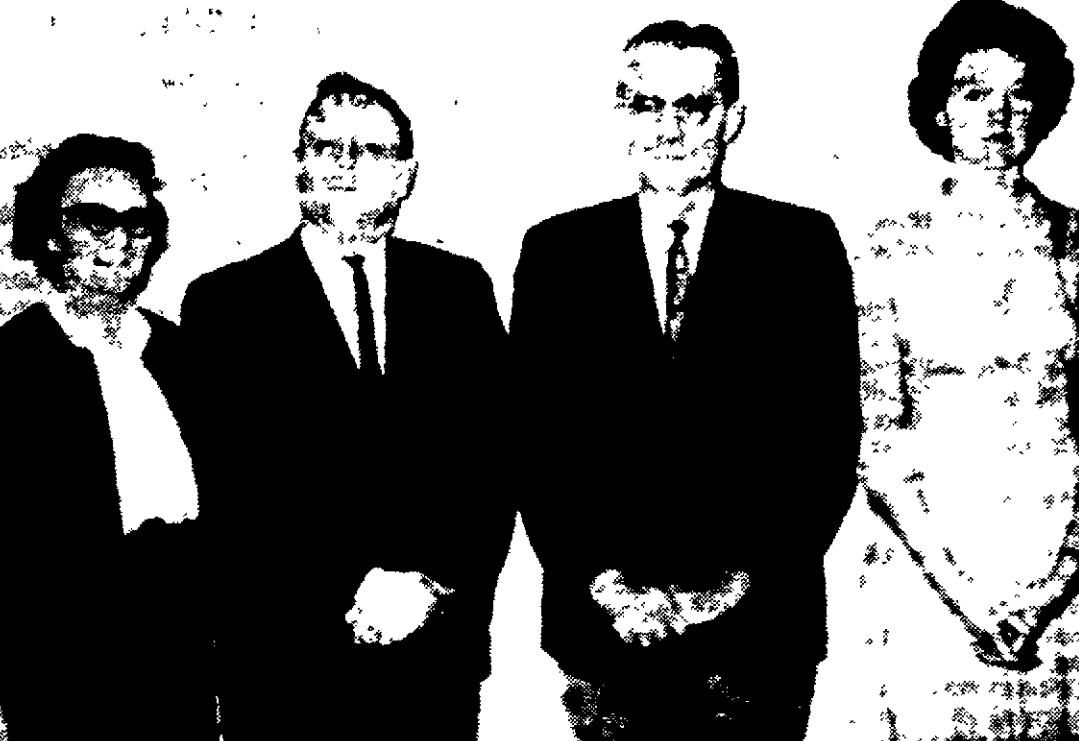

I tried to lure the handsome horses on the farm of Harry Rieckmann, but they simply stared. The siren call of House is ineffectual.

Now at Fremont where I shall stay this night I was welcomed by Frank Smith, mayor here for 21 years. During that time the population has grown from 360 permanent dwellers to nearly 600.

Mrs. Marge Morak of the Fremont Cafe fed Frank and me a banana cream pie.

Yarn Swapping

Tonight I dine at the mayor's house where we will, I am sure, talk about fishing which we all ways do. The white bass are "biting good," said Mayor Smith, and there are many Illinois nimrods here to catch 'em. Thursday I move on to Weyauwega to see their grand Horse and Buggy Days festival. Between here and there I shall try to learn how to call animals to visit with me at the fence lines. If I become proficient at it I promise one thing: I'll let you know.

Serv-U's Bakers of Appleton To Cease Operation Saturday

Firm Lists Rising Costs, Sales Drop Among Reasons for Closing

Serv-U's Bakers of Appleton—a year ago in an attempt to in a firm employing 185 persons cease sales volume. They have been closed.

Appleton Serv-U's Bakers is owned by the C. J. Patterson Co., Kansas City, Mo., which has major bakery operations in other parts of the country, including those in Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado.

John Modlin, the firm's corporate secretary, has arrived in Appleton and other bakeries are being contacted in the area in an effort to get job interviews for those employees who will be jobless at the end of the week.

The local office of the Wisconsin State Employment Service also has been contacted and advised of the bakery labor pool that will be available.

Wright said some employees will be transferred to other company plants, but could not say how many or when.

Modlin said there were no plans at this time to dispose of the College Avenue real estate owned by the Patterson Co.

Calumet County May Open BPW Branch

Organizational Meeting Set Monday at Hotel Chilton With District Officials

CHILTON — An organizational meeting for prospective Business and Professional Women in Calumet County is planned Monday at the Hotel Chilton.

Mrs. Mabel McClanahan, Appleton, will speak on the aims and reasons for such an organization.

Several Chilton women met last week with Miss Anita Losli, district expansion committee woman, and Evelyn Ecker, Sixth District expansion chairman, both of Appleton; and two Sheboygan women, Frances Blasi, state world affairs committee chairwoman, and Evelyn Hansen, third vice president of the Wisconsin Federation, to discuss the possibility of such a group in Chilton.

Purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of business and professional women, and extend opportunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industry, science and vocations.

Brochures released by the group list leadership experience, personal advancement, participation, friendship and fellowship as offerings of the BPW.

In charge of recruitment of members from the Chilton area is Miss Beulah Greim.

Miss Greim said the group is open to all women. It is non-profit, non-sectarian and non-partisan. It includes all women working for themselves or someone else such as farmers, waitresses, nurses, lawyers, accountants or any other type of work.

Heart Fund Will Not Join Chilton United Fund Drive

CHILTON — The Wisconsin Heart Association announced today that it will not participate in the newly formed Chilton United Fund which will be conducting its fund campaign this fall. WHA said its annual Heart Fund campaign, to support the fight against diseases of the heart and blood vessels, would be held in Chilton next February.

Heart Association officials issued this statement after learning that the Chilton United Fund was planning to raise money for heart research in its coming drive.

According to WHA, which is an affiliate of the American Heart Association, a national policy was adopted in October, 1955, that prohibits any state affiliate from participating in newly organized united campaigns. Failure to abide by the policy would result in the loss of WHA's national charter.

Shawano Board Lauds Planning

Members Pleased With Wolf River Commission Scope

SHAWANO — County board members Wednesday agreed Shawano County is now getting a valuable and worthwhile picture of future development of natural resources through the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission.

"We are now getting a comprehensive picture of resource features," James Beversdorf, Wittenberg, said. "This, together with the land use inventory and the plans being developed as advisory guidelines for towns and counties, will help to develop forward-looking conservation and recreation programs at a time when they are very much needed."

with the land use inventory and the plans being developed as advisory guidelines for towns and counties, will help to develop forward-looking conservation and recreation programs at a time when they are very much needed."

Scenic Tour
Gordon Bubolz, commission chairman, said heavy tourist pressure on Shawano Lake would be eased by taking scenic tour possibilities along County Trunk M. The route west of Shawano goes through some river area and scenic falls.

Civic organizations and conservation clubs have shown interest in sharing cost of constructing a bridge across Hayman Falls and helping with other projects.

The board also approved its share of costs to finance the planning commission next year.

Activities Set For Highway Week in State

Bid Openings for Road Projects to Begin Observance

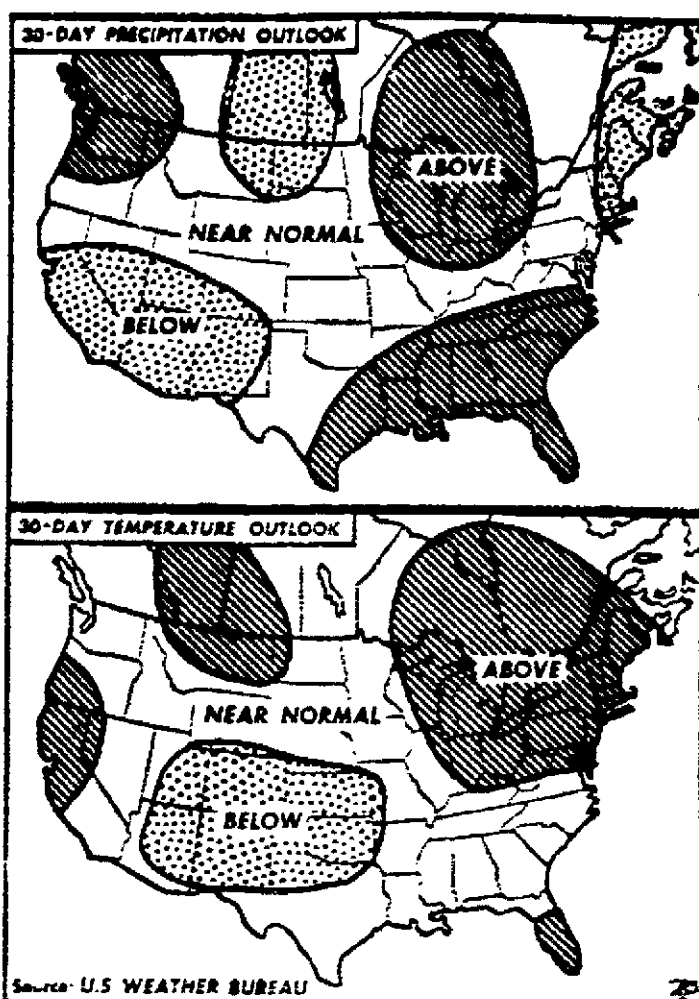

"In recognition of the importance of highway transportation to the social and economic progress and defense of our nation," President Lyndon Johnson has proclaimed the first week in October "National Highway Week."

Gov. John Reynolds has declared State Highway Safety Week to run concurrently with the national observance. Because there are more than 2 million registered drivers and 18 million licensed vehicles in the state, Reynolds said, it becomes increasingly important that we emphasize safe driving. This is especially so, he said, in light of the fact that we are dependent on highway transportation today for most everything that is eaten, worn or used.

Bid Opening

A variety of events and activities throughout the state will help to focus attention on highway safety. These include an open house is slated for Oct. 10 at the Highway Commission's district office, Madison, in the Hill Farm State Office Building, which will feature signs to show all phases of highway work through exhibits, models, movies and on-the-job activities.

Special observances also are scheduled for offices in Milwaukee, Rhinelander and LaCrosse. Most other district offices will feature displays, exhibits and tours.

NEENAH — Mike Grygny, 51, 5284 1st Ave. May, Tah Road, Oshkosh, was fined $125 and costs for 30 days in Winnebago County Jail by Winnebago County Court Branch 3 Judge James in an accident.

Grygny pleaded no contest to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.

Grygny pleaded no contest to the charge. He was arrested Sept. 7 by Neenah police on South Commercial Street. He was involved in an accident.

.22 Bullet Crashes Into Youth's Bed

BLACK CREEK — Theodore Runke Jr., 13, escaped serious injury Tuesday when a spent .22 caliber rifle shell crashed through his bedroom window and hit the headboard on his bed in his parents' home.

Outagamie County sheriff authorities said Runke had left the bed minutes before. He had been confined to bed Tuesday due to illness.

Investigators interviewed neighbors, and said no one heard shot fired at the time of the incident, which was placed shortly before 5 p.m.

Authorities warned hunters to fire their weapons only in designated areas and to stay away from village and town limits.

Interesting Army Experiment

Both political parties in this campaign have talked about ending the Selective Service draft, a position obviously designed at this time to win votes. But neither proposes to reduce to any extent the manpower of our armed forces, so where are the additional recruits coming from if we return to a system of voluntary enlistments?

The Army may have a partial answer to this question. It is starting an experiment called the Special Training Enlistment Program. It will seek to correct physical and educational deficiencies in young men now being drafted and rejected because they do not meet present standards.

Next January the first batch of 250 recruits will be inducted into the program at Fort Leonard Wood. The training operation will gradually expand until it can handle as many as 11,700 recruits at a time.

A man with bad teeth will get extensive dental treatment. A man with a hernia will get an operation. Weeks of low-calorie dieting will face the recruit who is overweight.

But the bulk of time and effort will be expended on the recruit with educational deficiencies. The basic training period will be extended from 6 to 14 weeks and four hours of schooling a day will be combined with four hours of military training. Plans call for one civilian teacher for each 20 to 25 recruits.

The aim is to prepare for regular duty recruits with physical deficiencies which can be corrected in six weeks or with educational lacks which can be corrected in six months.

The Army program may be a much more practical approach to the unemployment problem than the entire war on poverty. Presumably these young men who cannot meet army induction standards are also those who have difficulty finding jobs in private employment. They will certainly include a large percentage of school drop-outs.

The hope is that a large percentage of the recruits who can be brought up to standard will become career military men. And conceivably they could replace draftees whose term of service is interrupting civilian careers.

Spain Wants the Rock

How far back in history can a nation's claim to territory go? The United Nations has that question to answer in a debate now going on in its Special Committee on Colonialism. Spain wants Gibraltar.

Spain's claim goes back more than two hundred years. In 1704, the British occupied Gibraltar and the British commander, contrary to his instructions to conquer in the name of a Hapsburg ally, claimed the rock for Queen Anne. Nine years later the occupation was made legal by the ceding of Gibraltar to England at the Council of Utrecht.

The importance of Gibraltar through history is hard to over-emphasize, particularly in the days before submarines and airplanes. Through its control, England virtually determined who would and who would not sail in the Mediterranean Sea. The English defenders successfully withstood sieges by the Spanish and the French and hundreds of plans to get around Gibraltar by the construction of other fortresses or even by a tunnel underneath the Straits. The Straits are shallow and narrow and the rock itself has been almost impregnable. The Moors and Spanish fought over it for generations; the British victory in taking it was a masterpiece in planning.

But now England is willing to let the colony go. And the people in and around

Gibraltar are almost at the state of siege themselves in determining how and where.

The Mayor of San Roque, a nearby Spanish town, has been chosen to represent five such towns in demanding that Gibraltar come back to Spain. He argues that when the British entered in 1704, many of the inhabitants fled to San Roque and other towns and therefore their descendants are the true heirs to Gibraltar. But the Mayor in Gibraltar, Sir Josua Hassan, represents the people now living there who apparently want to determine for themselves their future patriotic allegiance.

A special Committee started hearing the arguments a year ago but postponed them when other colonial decisions, in areas where people were openly at war, seemed more important. Now they may have to go back even further in history to find the rightful owner and we are surprised that the rising people of Africa have not put in a claim. The name Gibraltar itself came from Yebel al Tarik, which means Mountain of Tarik and was named for the Arab who led Arabs and Persians from Morocco to Spain a thousand years before the British took possession. And centuries before that, a land bridge joined the two continents. Africa would seem to have a better claim than Spain if original inhabitants are to be the deciding factor.

Battle of the Sexes

Milwaukee Alderwoman Vel Phillips insists on using the washroom assigned to "aldermen" because the one for women only (not only alderwomen) is some seventeen steps further away and besides she says it is a sign of sexual discrimination. It's another sign of the troubles ahead in the new woman's suffrage movement.

Women employees now have to be paid on a par with men for equal work and the civil rights law specifies that there shall be no discrimination because of sex as well as race, religion or national origin unless the employment involved specifically relies for success upon one's sex. Football teams probably won't have to hire women coaches for some time yet (until girls are eligible to try out for the team) and Play-boy Clubs won't have to hire male bunnies. But there are a lot of problems looming up for the men who still consider themselves the stronger sex.

Looking Backward

Capture of Atlanta Important

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Sept. 29, 1864.

As to the importance of Atlanta — whatever rebel papers say to the contrary — it is a greater loss to the Confederacy than Richmond.

Jefferson Davis himself, in a speech to the citizens of Atlanta, said "Atlanta is the gate city from the North and West to the South-East. Its fall would open the way for the Federal Army to the Gulf on the one hand, to Charleston on the other, and close up those rich granaries from which Lee's armies are supplied."

"It would give them control of our network of railways, and thus paralyze our efforts."

Hood lately stated that "we cannot lose Atlanta. If we do, the Confederacy is broken. For my part, I'll fight while a man stands by me, even until the streets of the city run with our blood."

When it came to that point, the only running in the streets was done by Hood and his ragged rebels.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Sept. 28, 1939.

Top fishermen in the Twin City Rod and Gun Club competition included the following first place winners in the several divisions: John Mayefski, Ed Tyrivier, John Brooks, Carl Porath, E. L. Parrott, Francis Landig, Walter Stommel and Thomas Thomsen.

Mrs. Martha Lyons, Shioctor, was notified that her song "Under the Mellow Moonbeam" had been published. The song writer estimated that she had written more than 100 songs.

Mildred Leisering was general chairman of the opening program for the Commercial Club at Appleton High School. Assisting her were Delores Wettengel, Rose Mary McCann, and Ione Aesch. Marian Waves was chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Robert Hussey, Juliette Hennes and Alice McCarter.

Mrs. William Martin was elected president of the Rebekah Three Links Club. Mrs. Dora Butties was named vice president; Mrs. John McCarter, treasurer and Mrs. George Gauslin secretary.

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Sept. 29, 1954.

Eighth grade officers at Combined Locks State Graded School included David Schummers, president; Connie Danielson, vice president; Judy Siegel, secretary, and Charles Williams, treasurer.

Valley 4-H Club won the softball league championship when the Valley team defeated the defending champion Rainbow 4-H squad 15 to 10. Jerome Evers was the winning pitcher and Fred Verhagen hit the first homer of the year for the winners. Besides Evers and Verhagen, Valley members included Jim Van Asten, Gene Hietpas, Tom Evers, Joe Sanderfoot, Len Evers, Ronald Vienne, Jerry Lamers, John Jansen, Dick Van Handel and Robert Leygraaf.

Ralph Wurdinger was elected president of the junior class at Kimberly High School. Other officers were Anthony Van Krey, vice president; Sandy Van Himbergen, secretary; and Marilyn Smits, treasurer. Presidents of the other three classes were Ann Schellhout, seniors; Jerry VanderVelden, sophomores; and Warren Pelman, freshmen.

Farm Wife Gives Woman's Point Of View About Farmers' Plight

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In regard to all the headlines on and about N.F.O. holding action. First and foremost, if your farmer were not on the verge of losing the roof over his head, he wouldn't take time out from his already back-breaking task of making a living for his family. But when 18 to 20 hours he puts in a day do not do that, he has to find some other way. And N.F.O. is the only farm organization to be and have the guts to try and do it. We don't sell car insurance or refrigerators or stoves. Just faith in a group that is going to be operated by dirt farmers to help get us a living wage for some hard but honest labor.

The deaths at Bonduel of two of our N.F.O. men should make people realize how much these people need support and will give support to help our cause.

Most farm families work as a team. A man and wife trying their very best to provide a home, a future for their families. I have seen women work tractors in the field until they could drop. Dirty, torn overalls, and I have been one and know what I'm speaking of. To come in from the field and keep their homes as best they can, plus try to keep their children happy too. It's no easy job. And it's a king size one, too. Try it. Work in the barn and field from 6 a.m. till 7 p.m. with time off to toss a meal of sorts on the table. Then take care of a garden, lawn, and all the other things that are a woman's responsibility. Then perhaps at 10 or 10:30 you can jump in the tub to get the dirt and grime of the day off. At least till the alarm goes off at 5:30 or 6 a.m. to start the day over again. And all for what? When pay day comes you get your milk check, which if we are lucky, we may be able to send payments to all of the people who need to be paid. If not, we have to be big enough to tell them next month they will come first on our list. And then if we can take time off we go get the staples we have to have for the month. Then we are broke, and not for a week or two but a month. That is the reason you see mothers on the N.F.O. picket lines. It's our only hope. We're sick to death of our life. It's work and all for about 50 cents a day. And then we should hope our sons grow up to take over the family farm! Most of us in our hearts hope that they learn and learn well the lessons of life. Both on the farm and in the schools. And when they can get off, run like mad anywhere but on the farm.

For the past 25 years there have been farm organizations who were supposed to have the farmer as his main interest. If they have it's been a most lost cause. As our prices have gone down constantly for years. And when one month they take 17 cents away per hundred for milk and the next month give you 5 cents per hundred back and the field men are so proud and happy. And think we are dumb enough to be happy the time has come to do something. And I think the farmer is finally going to. We know how to add and subtract and if N.F.O. doesn't do the job, we'll be broke and soon.

Wisconsin Report

National Prosperity Bound to Be Factor In State's Election

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The most recent report on the Wisconsin labor market provides a clue

Wyngaard Democratic

to the difficulties

Republican challengers will encounter as they try to persuade the electorate to retire the state and administrations. The state, like the country, is booming economically.

The state report for mid-August showed that the unemployment rate stood at 3.3 per cent of the labor force, the lowest in five years.

It is difficult for any politician to quarrel with success. The Republicans may assert bitterly that Gov. Reynolds, for one, had very little to do with the fact that there was a high total of nearly 1.6 million Wisconsin persons gainfully employed as the campaign got underway. But they obviously are not going to deter him from taking some of the credit, at least to the extent that he is supporting President Lyndon Johnson, whose own main theme is the economic expansion of the country and the extension of its benefits to even more of the population.

STATE FINANCE

The other day the governor proudly put out a press release relating that the state treasury at the end of the fiscal year had a surplus of about $29 million. In comparative terms, that was a slender figure. It is a good deal like the $150 a week wage earner, who was lucky enough to have some overtime and other fortunate experiences during the year, boasting about ending his domestic year with $350 unspent. The margin of safety is dubious. Omitted from the account, for example, was increasing debt.

But the governor shrewdly associated the happenstance of a little surplus, which might very well have been a deficit, with the high index of economic activity in the state and the national economic boom which he said reflects the contentment of the country under the Democratic national administration.

This writer does not travel around the United States very much, regarding Wisconsin as his principal beat. But this year brought travel to both ends of the country in connection with the national political party conventions. The trips produced some impressions, mildly astounding to provincial eyes. Packed highways, free spending vacationers everywhere, crowded hostels, lineups in restaurants, an enormous volume of new construction in city after city — all these spoke better than columns of economic statistics about rising wages, expanding profits, and steadily increasing production in virtually every major category.

BALLOT FOOTNOTE

It is the usual assumption in politics that the voter who is satisfied with his situation is indisposed to political change.

Always excepting the uncertain and dangerous foreign affairs, most assessments today indicate that the Johnson ticket will run better in Wisconsin than had been forecast earlier.

Will that have some impact upon voting for governor, or congressmen, or for seats in the state Legislature?

Probably. But probably not as much as in those states where the ballot handed to the voter — or the names on the voting machine — are offered as a single unit. Wisconsin voters have two ballots, one for the national election, one for all of the other contests. The voter who wants to vote a "straight ticket," so-called, must nevertheless vote twice. In effect, he must ponder the state and local and the national tickets separately.

Republicans might today pay a small tribute to the foresight of their elders who kept it that way in the days of Franklin Roosevelt when local Democrats wanted a combined ticket but couldn't pass the legislation.

Strictly Personal

Difference of Dress From Gown Is $50

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices: I have never understood how a candidate can attack his opponent bitterly in the primary and then urge all good party members to support the scoundrel a few months later: all this does is breed cynicism and disbelief in the electorate.

Some day, for a refreshing change, I hope a candid club chairman will present the speaker of the evening by saying: "So-and-so is rather obscure outside of his own small circle, and therefore requires a fairly elaborate introduction." I am tired of speakers who "need no introduction" and get a lengthy one, anyway.

One of the first things a husband learns about feminine semantics is that the difference between a "dress" and a "gown" is at least $50.

America is the only country in the world where grown men of 40 and older will stand around at a party and discuss their college days with heaving nostalgia; and one is driven to the supposition that Alma Mater supplied some need that the real mater failed to.

ery in the play is beautiful, but the actors insisted on standing in front of it."

Why do hotel operators keep ringing a room long after it is evident that no one is there, instead of giving you the message clerk after a decent interval?

If a highbrow, as Brander Matthews said, "is a person educated beyond his intelligence," then a lowbrow is a person who stubbornly refuses to let his intelligence become educated; and most men are content to drive through life on 10 per cent of their intellectual horsepower, while demanding the full potential, and more, from their automobiles.

Poets and song-writers have dwelt too exclusively on the pain of missing someone: but it is a pain that contains a wide streak of pleasure, for the capacity to miss a loved one contains a delightful anticipation of return: it is the people who don't really miss anyone who are the saddest.

The truest test of affinity between two persons lies not so much in their sharing abstract ideas or beliefs as in the objects they can laugh at together: if one person laughs at things the other finds cruel or disgusting, they can never be real friends.

A politician who becomes honest after he has made his pile is no more deserving of our approbation than the profligate who gets religion after he has become fatigued of his vices.

Potomac Fever— by Jack Wilson

The White House says the President will go to Des Moines to talk to farm leaders. Now just a big fat minute! We thought Hubert was the farmacist.

A group of Republicans will build a new TV station in Austin, Texas. Outrageous! How long must we put up with this reckless destruction of natural campaign issues?

British cops say no crime was committed in the case of the school boy found beside a railroad track, bound, gagged, and with both feet cut off. It was just one of those foolish incidents.

Goldwater used to say a President shouldn't debate on TV because he might give away military secrets. What do you do about not debating a President who has already given them away?

Elizabethan Bed Bought by Memphis Man

LONDON (AP) — A gaudy Elizabethan bedstead, said to have belonged to Shakespeare's mother-in-law, soon will be shipped to the United States. Russell Weiner, a collector from Memphis, Tenn., bought the bed Monday during the first day of the auction of effects of the late Capt. E. G. Spencer-Churchill, a cousin of Sir Winston Churchill. He paid $2,058 to buy some paintings for a Tennessee museum, said a spokesman for the auctioneers. Christe's "He had already bought his pictures, but he heard about the bed and wanted it for himself."

The bed is of oak, 4 feet 6 inches wide, carved, and with a canopy. Christe's said it once stood in Anne Hathaway's cottage in Stratford on Avon. The bedstead is but one piece of period furniture which be-day of the auction of effects of longed to the late Spencer-Churchill. Spencer-Churchill left assets estimated to be worth $7 million. Weiner came to this country from
